EDITORIAL BOARD TEAM

“If you fail, never give up, because FAIL means First Attempt in Learning.”
- Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam

We are learning each day, how to fall and rise again, how to keep marching ahead despite all the obstacles that might arise on our paths to victory. We are each running towards our individual goals, towards becoming valuable citizens of this nation, meaningful contributors of the society. If we get tired while running, we will walk; if we get tired while walking, we will crawl; if we get tired crawling, we will use every ounce of energy in our bodies to keep moving ahead, but we won't stop.

It has been a long journey from the first day to the day the magazine has been assembled together by the editorial team with constant assistance from our professors and fellow students. Thus, introducing the magazine to all finally comes with a feeling which one might not be able to express in words. The 17th edition of Awadh Radiance, brings to you the exciting stories, poems, articles and many more creative things that have been contributed by the students of ACE.

The responsibility to bring this magazine together was huge, but we were able to do so with the immense support that we received. We are indebted to the entire editorial team for making the magazine happen, to our Professors for their undying support and guidance, and finally, to the people who have contributed to the magazine, this one is for you. Collaborating with all was an enriching experience that will stay with us forever and the enthusiasm of our peers have encouraged us throughout the process, making it a fun activity to pull through.

Hope our enthusiasm gets reflected to you during your read and you enjoy it as much as we did.

My B.Ed. JOURNEY AT INSTITUTE OF VOCATIONAL STUDIES

I am at a loss for words to describe my wonderful journey of B.Ed. from IVS. It has been a fantastic experience for me to be a student of IVS. I would always be grateful for the support and experiences the college gave me. The faculty has always been encouraging, understanding, and supportive of the students' development. I am so grateful to my instructors for moulding me into the person I am today. Through the many approaches used by the college, I gained a lot of knowledge. The college consistently encouraged the students based on their skills and limitations and never failed to recognise individual differences. I was given a tonne of possibilities, including those to manage events, write papers for the journal, anchoring, being a part of the editorial team. I accepted all of the available possibilities, and doing so aided me in both my personal and professional development. I could acquire a job easily because IVS helped me work on my strengths and weaknesses and encouraged me continuously. I would want to thank the entire faculty as well as the management team for all they have done for us and for how well they have taken care of us.

MY IVS EXPERIENCE

My Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) experience from Institute of Vocational Studies (IVS) was very good even though it was a journey of much ups and down. But I would say that every experience of life is precious for us as we get some learning or the other from it which not only helps to deal with the problems at present but also for the future ones. Though, our whole B.Ed. experience was online, yet our institution made it best to provide us with the best experience in the harsh times of corona. Our college focused on the observation, analysis and reflection part of the teaching where we as pupil-teachers understood the functioning, system and framework of a school. This was much better understood with the interviews of school teachers, school data and others. I believe B.Ed. course is aligned in such a way that produces, polishes and outsource good, active and an efficient teacher who would not only think mainly about teaching but also develop a strong relation with their students. All the things helped me in getting awareness about the current happenings, components of school functioning along with making use of various ICT tools and techniques appropriately and accurately. Preliminary School Engagement (PSE) helped us to become a good, interactive, and an empathetic teacher. The institution helped me to get deeper knowledge about schools and know various new aspects, perspectives and components of life. Though, we were in times of pandemic but I received good experience of how to make an effective teaching-learning process and how to apply various maxims and principles of teaching in a classroom with appropriate teaching aids, styles and strategies. I would say that it was due to my family's support and my supervisor's feedbacks that I learned to become a teacher by working on my weaknesses. Thus, our college did their best efforts in helping me to get an overview of the necessary activities and the system or processes of the school along with getting an insight on the necessary qualities or skills that a teacher should achieve or possess in order to become an active, efficient, empathetic and a flexible teacher.

INTOLERANCE IS THE FIRST SIGN OF INADEQUATE EDUCATION

‘She got because of the way she dressed.’ ‘He was murdered because of his food choices’. ‘They were beaten because they didn’t uphold the moral norms on gender’. These are not imaginary narratives but frequent news reports across India. People often have to pay a heavy price for openly following their heart. And that is because society can’t tolerate such honesty and openness. Inadequacy of value education frequently leads to display of intolerance.

Many great philosophers didn’t mean education as passing examinations and getting good grades. According to Swami Vivekananda, “We want education by which character is formed, strength is increased, the intellect is expanded and by one can stand on one’s own feet. According to J. Krishnamurthy, education is about helping an individual to grow and flourish in love and goodness so that he/she can live in harmony with all the living beings.

We can consider education as a means to enlightenment. The same enlightenment that was pioneered by philosophers such as Rabindranath Tagore, Swami Vivekananda and John Dewey.

Education also helps us to understand complexity of an issue. By nurturing our critical thinking we can understand the issue beyond the simplistic binaries. Education makes us respect different cultures and traditions. It also helps us to know about self. This self-awareness builds our emotional intelligence. However, in present time we are mainly focused on material gains out of education. Students know the ‘what’ and ‘how’ but not ‘why’.

One of the major problems created by inadequate education is the proliferation of diverse ideologies. The binaries of ‘us’ vs ‘them’ divide people’s hearts. The public advisories to reduce or avoid bursting of crackers on Diwali took a communal turn, as people didn’t use their critical thinking.

Another form of intolerance and division is linked to region and language. While an educated mind would want to explore new regions and languages a closed mind with a parochial outlook sees them as threats. The issue of third gender is even more tricky. Even the most educated often find it difficult to empathize with their struggles and label it as a psychological problem. LGBTQ are thus confined to the most vulnerable corners of our society, due to fear of intolerance of the mainstream. The trend of urbanization has increased class differences and intolerance.

Having understood the importance of education and acceptance as an alternative to intolerance, we must put efforts to promote it. Remember that inequity in access to education will lead to spread of hate in the name of education. Hence focus should be on accessible and quality education. Recently government has come up with the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 which tries to improve upon access, quality of content and quality of teachers. It aims leverage IT for better service delivery.

However, the work doesn't stop there. The process of education must continue even outside classrooms and focus should be on life long learning . As long as we learn, we can accept new ideas and grow. The moment we stop learning and close our minds to certain eco chambers on social media our growth stops. National growth stops and intolerance begins. Hence every individual must recognise this fight against intolerance.

सर्दी आती है

सर्दी आती है, आलस लाती है
जो ठंड में, पानी से डराती है
गाजर का हल्वा, सरसो का साग
शकरगन्धि की मिठास या हो मूंगफली की बहार
ये सभी सर्दी अपने साथ लाती है
दिन छोटे रात लम्बी हो जाती है
जो लोगो को रजाइयों में बैठती है
दिन की धूप भी अब लोगो को भाती है
ये बच्चो को खेल की सौगात लाती है
मोटे मोटे कपड़े पहने ये सर्दी दूर भगाती है
ये सर्दी छुटियाँ भी साथ लाती है
सर्दी आती है आलस लाती है

A TRIP TO TAJ MAHAL

I believed that the greatest gift you can give yourself is to travel the place you've always longed to see personally. I love to travel at different places. One day I finally decided to travel alone, thought travelling will good for mental peace. After asking different people I came to know about Taj Mahal. I only read about Taj mahal in books. So, this trip was going to be a lot of fun and intere4sting for me.

DAY1: New Delhi to Agra and exploring the local streets of Agra

I took samta express from Hazzrath nizamuddin Railway station in Delhi to reach Agra Cantt station. I wanted to travel by train because I love to travel in Train. It departed at 7 am from Hazzrath nizamuddin Railway station and reached Agra at 9:05 am. The ticket cost per person is around 790. The train was well maintained and the services were also good. I was on my own. I decided to explore Agra by myself and so not hired any guide. As soon as I got down from the train, I felt very hungry and there was a Dhaba just a short distance away. I ordered chole bhatture and parrathe. They were very tasty and delicious. I booked my stay at nearby hotel. Being Sunday, I wanted to chill at the hotel. I figured that visiting these places shall be a "little "better during a weekday. Hence, I explored the local market at Agra and local street which had huge rush. When you are in Agra, do not miss indulging in chats and pethas which are very famous local sweet made out of pumpkins or as gourd.

DAY2: Visiting the Taj Mahal

I planned to visit the Taj Mahal early in the morning. Although there is usual cab service available in Agra, the autorickshaw in fact OLA auto are also easily available. A mere ride of 19 minutes took me to the Taj Mahal from my hotel. This is one place that we as kids have seen numerable time- in books, magazines, TV but the feeling of seeing it right in front of your eye is brilliant beyond imagination. The monument literally shines as the golden sunray falls on it. The Taj Mahal is an architectural marvel. With perfect floral present in perfect proportion jewel heera, panna making the craving even more beautiful. The exterior architecture of the central dome is so adorable that everyone is like to visit it. To explore everything you may hire a guide who carved the knowledge about the entire history. I spent my entire morning until the 4-5 hour of afternoon photographing and breathing the character of the monument, until I thought I was satisfied with my visit. Next day I left for Delhi completely happy with beautiful memory. I have finally strike this ever-pending trip of my wish list.

MALE MOLESTATION: MYTH OR FACT?

If I explain molestation in simple words it's an act of sexually touching someone for their own satisfaction. Child molestation is a rapidly growing crime not just in India but in other countries as well. Let's just talk about India for now, we hear cases of girl child molestation almost every day in our country, people raise their voices, plea our government to take sturdy and stern measures but how many times do we speak up about the molestation done to boys in our society? I'll tell you how many times NONE. Why exactly does that happen? Because our society has conceived an image that these things only happen to girls and we people only want to know about the already existing affairs. Why don't we for once try to think that there is a chance these things happen to both girls and boys? NO, we can't even bring ourselves to reckon it might be true, we are too petrified to acquire this naked truth. We have to accept the fact that male children are just as much in peril as the female children as they are most likely to be abused by known people like relatives, neighbors and at school. Parents teach their daughters that they could be sexually abused or molested but sons are not informed. Why don't we warn and guide our sons about the perils of the outside world? We don't do so because we don't affirm it to be correct. Male children aren't only the ones assaulted, some adult males are also abused and blackmailed. What's even more surprising is that child sex abuse is at least 10% more among boys than girls in India, the cases are just not reported. Most cases go unreported because of poor awareness, social disgrace and negligence. Our parents play a very important role in hushing it up and children are discouraged from disclosing their bad experiences. It is vital to know that in some cases the perpetrator is known to be a child, the abusers are not all men. Cultural and social reasons force parents to think that protecting a daughter is more important than protecting a son.

Our continuous disdain is what leads to breakthrough in number of molestation against males and male child. We as an integral part of our society are to be blamed for not fixating on this. We talk about feminism, we talk about equality, and all we talk about is the unethical done to the female of our society. I am not saying we should not focus on the condition of female but why can't we focus on the males in need of our help as well. Feminism and Equality is not about how strong and powerful you are or how you are capable of doing things on your own or how Independent you are but it is about how you see and maintain equality regardless of ones gender, that our society is neither able to maintain nor properly understand these two terms. There are plenty of male rape survivors in India who live in far worse situation and go through exact same trauma and physical hurt as a female rape survivor. The gender indifference of the common people and lawmakers reinforces the stereotypically-patriarchal ideas of gender in our country. The IPC (Indian Penal Code) sections 354A,B,C and D deal with various instances of sexual instances, in all these laws, women are placed as victims and men are supposed to be the perpetrators. Similarly, in IPC section 375, which defines rape and states what punitive measures need to be taken against the same, there is no mention of rape against men. We are supposed to make gender-neutral criminal laws. However, our Indian society does not think women should be placed as perpetrators in the definition of sexual assaults and rapes in the criminal law. We need to be less gender biased and keep an open mind about these crimes.

But can our society fully accept these facts and do justice?

FREE NEWS COSTS INDEPENDENT JOURNALISM

For a long, journalism, whether it is television, print, radio, or digital journalism has been predominantly funded through advertising. For instance, if an individual is paying a particular amount for a newspaper it should not be the actual cost of the newspaper, advertising has been paying a majority of the portion.

However, contemporarily digital advertising is thriving which has in a way has made a duopoly (a situation in which two suppliers have dominance in the market for a product or service) of two companies namely; Google and Facebook (now Meta) that presents a challenge to the independent journalism to sustain.

Google carries enormous influence on digital journalism as every news website desires to get its articles ranked on Google in order to get more traffic that enables Google to deliver more advertisements to the website and therefore the free news gets a chance to sustain through the Google AdSense revenue some portion of which is kept by Google as a commission.

The above-mentioned criteria to gain revenue in a way compromise with the independence of the journalists as the news is written with an objective to get ranked on the Google rather make the readers informed. Though that does not mean every news that ranks on Google lack quality content, it does mean the news has to be Search Engine Optimised so that it gets ranked and the attention of the news organisation gets shifted towards Search Engine Optimisation (SEO) rather quality content.

For Facebook on the other hand the news organisations are required to deliberate, how the post should be designed so that it receives more clicks and website visits and which is consistent with the Facebook requirements that include, the image, caption, and tags, among others. Again the attention has been diverted to get more clicks and website visits from delivering quality news.

It is without contention that Google provides a niche platform for the community to read, search and research. And Facebook has its niche in providing opportunities to users to communicate, share their opinions and experience discussions.

Despite that, the impact of both the big giants could not be ignored on independent journalism which gets affected due to their requirements. The reason being the presumed free news for which the readers are not required to pay, that has led to the duopoly of both.

In order to keep independent journalism alive readers, therefore, need to contribute monetarily to news organisations to sustain and to keep the citizenry aware, ahead and informed.

IS INDIA STILL MOVING BACKWARD?

One after another news was popping up when I was trying to find a news related to dowry. I wasn't aware about how many cases were there regarding this issue and at this modern era too it happening. It's a bit concerning to find we couldn't eliminate this system even now.

There was this one issue that sickened me most, a man killed an 8-month-old pregnant woman with sickle, reason was, she helped this man's wife to escape from his harassment over dowry. Another case was, a women committed suicide as she couldn't tolerate the harassment of mother-in-law and husband. She tried to tell her family but they told her to adjust, what can one expect when one's family is itself not helping when they needed them the most.

As per Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961, (Act No. 28 of 1961), If any person, after the commencement of this Act, gives or takes or abets the giving or taking of dowry, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than five years, and with the fine which shall not be less than fifteen thousand rupees or the amount of the value of such dowry. If any person demands directly or indirectly, from the parents or other relatives or guardian of a bride or bridegroom as the case may be, any dowry, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than six months but which may extend to two years and with fine which may extend to ten thousand rupees provided that the Court may, for adequate and special reasons to be mentioned in the judgment, impose a sentence of imprisonment for a term of less than six months.

Most of the people living in India know about this act, still the question is even now why and how its still happening. Simple answer is, society and its mindset. A family is too afraid of what other thinks if their child is going through a broken marriage. Who will marry her if this one get broken and, this reason is known to the person who is marrying their girl, which leads to shamelessly asking for more and more dowry.

Enacting a law is well and fine but when the reason behind a law is something crucial and something that's happening for years and years then, just enacting them won't be useful. Humans need to understand the philosophy behind why government came up with this law and understand its seriousness. Till that time the generation of taking dowry won't stop and it will continue by taking many others lives.

MISCELLANEOUS STORY

Our life is never perfect. It is unpredictable and full of ups and downs. The mantra to live it is to never give up and keep striving. This short story also tells us something similar; that life is not about crying over your failures but to learn from them and move ahead, also that life is unpredictable.

This story is about a lady, named Payal Dayal. She belonged to a middle class Punjabi family and had seven brothers and sisters. Her parents, both of them met with a severe accident and were hospitalised for a long time. In order to take care of her parents, Payal had to leave her studies and stay back home. Eventually both her parents passed away and Payal got married. As she was educated to some level she still had the interest to study, to learn more. She used to read a lot, which gradually over the period of time improved her vocabulary and she became very fluent in English. She and her husband adopted a small girl and took complete responsibility of her. Payal joined a philosophical group and started engaging herself in social work. Her aim in life was to spread happiness and interact more and more with the youth of the country; guide them, understand their problems and help them in every way possible. At the age of fifty she decided to complete her graduation and took admission in a college. She completed her graduation in Social Work and is currently working with an organisation. Payal travels around the country and counsels around fifteen hundred students every day. She conducts career counselling sessions for young students and guides them. She suffered a lot in her life but did not give up. Her biggest drawback was that she couldn't complete her education on time. But her strengths in life are her daughter and her husband. We can learn from her to never give up, no matter what happens. Any situation cannot be the end of your life. You have to live it, you have no choice. Then why not live in the best way possible, why spend it in vain.

You are born only once, live this life to its fullest without any regrets.

FRIEND

"Truly great friends are hard to find, difficult to leave and impossible to forget"

What is a friend? It is a person with whom you dare to be yourself

A friend is a present you give to yourself. No man is useless while he has a friend, Life has no blessings like a prudent friend. It is chance that makes brothers but heart that make friend.

Friends are those who are trusted , who will never be rusted. With whom you can share everything without any doubt of secret leaking.

Sometimes we quarrel with ours. Friends, but friends are those who will always be our friend." Friends are shine in dullness, Friends are light in darkness, and Friends are joy in sadness. Friends are spirit of our body.

Friends are always to support in problems. Friend is the man who knows all about you, and still likes you!

Without friend, life is like a ship without rudder, it's a friend that I surrender.

A friend's friendship is like a journey, starting at forever and ending at never.

A friend is like a river that will never end. A friend is like a dove with a beautiful message to send.

I'll be your friend and I'll be mine, is my vow to you, may it always be true.

GENDER EQUALITY

'Gender-equality', there used to be a time where the mere mention of such terms would've put someone in jail. The times haven't changed.

The room of confinement just expanded itself.

On the surface the arguments were "Not every girl likes pink".

In depth it is much more painful to endure the treatment of unfairness happening right in front of your eyes.

When A girl who grew up arguing that she also liked cars not only dolls, a girl who wanted to show off she was strong too, a girl who fought when she was young had to lose a position, she so much deserved to someone who only got it because he was biologically favored.

A family of nine the birth of the 7th and final child, it was celebrated

Unlike the fate of the other 6 kids.

Why?

Because it was a son.

That son got everything but those daughters were burden.

Gender equality isn't something a girl or women has to fight for when she's grown up

She has to fight for it her whole life GROWING UP.

It was the liking of certain things, it was the fight for her words to be heard, in decision making, financial equality and the fight for her value.

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST MEN

We often hear about cases of injustice against women or sexual harassment to females at workplaces. If injustice is being done, there is a preconceived notion that injustice is being done to the female. It usually never occurs to people that harassment can be done to males as well. But nowadays, cases have come to people's notice where harassment to males is being done and no justice is given to them because it is been assumed that the male is wrong on his part and the female gets the preference to it. There is a gender bias against males in certain cases. A number of laws are made for the protection of female but no such laws are there for the males and this makes them the victim of the society.

The case of male sexual harassment at the work place is on a rise. It is not only females who are harassed at the work place but males also get harassed by their co-employees or superior at their work place. Nobody wants to believe it because it is not a serious issue for everybody. But indeed, it is a serious issue for the male victim. Many people believe that harassment is limited to females and cannot go beyond this sphere. It's not women, but males too who are victims of sexual harassment.

In today's workplace, men are vulnerable to sexual harassment as much as women. It is a very serious issue and steps should be taken to overcome this. Indian society does not believe this concept because of their social beliefs that male cannot be get abused or harassed.

People see men as a very strong person, both physically and emotionally. But the society doesn't understand what all problems men have to go through.

In today's time people have started supporting the female so much that now they are pressurising the males.

We can see that there are many special initiative taken for supporting women like metro's first coach is only for women,

Women can travel free in buses, there is helping number for women but not for men, why is it so?

This is because of the thinking of the society. They think that they are supporting the so called word " EQUALITY " but they don't understand the true meaning of equality and discrimination.

भारत में सामाजिक समस्याएं

भारत उन सभी प्रमुख क्षेत्रों में प्रगति कर रहा है जिन्हें देश के विकास के लिए महत्वपूर्ण माना जाता है जैसे कि शिक्षा, प्रौद्योगिकी, संगठनात्मक संरचना, नीतियां, ग्रामीण क्षेत्र, कृषि पद्धति, उद्योग आदि। कुछ सामाजिक समस्याओं का प्रचलन रहा है जो गंभीर हैं और देश के विकास की राह में प्रमुख बाधाएँ सिद्ध हों; ये गरीबी, अशिक्षा, बेरोजगारी, बाल विवाह और कुपोषण हैं। गरीबी वह स्थिति है जब व्यक्ति शिक्षा, आश्रय, भोजन और पोषण, कौशल के विकास, कपड़े और रोजगार के अवसरों जैसे विभिन्न कारकों से वंचित रह जाता है। निरक्षरता एक ऐसी स्थिति है जब कोई व्यक्ति पढ़ने और लिखने में असमर्थ होता है, यह स्थिति किसी व्यक्ति को अपने जीवन यापन के लिए अच्छी गुणवत्ता वाली नौकरी प्राप्त करने में सक्षम नहीं बनाती है, इसलिए यह एक प्रमुख सामाजिक समस्या है। बेरोजगारी एक सामाजिक समस्या है जब कोई व्यक्ति बेरोजगार होता है, जब वह बेरोजगार होता है, तो वह उस आय को अर्जित करने में असमर्थ होता है जो एक सफल जीवन को लागू करने और स्वयं के साथ-साथ अपने परिवार के सदस्यों की सभी आवश्यक आवश्यकताओं को पूरा करने के लिए आवश्यक है। एक और बड़ी समस्या बाल विवाह की है, जब 18 वर्ष से कम उम्र के बच्चों का विवाह होता है, तो यह न केवल उन्हें बल्कि उनके परिवारों को भी नकारात्मक और असंवैधानिक रूप से प्रभावित करता है, और यह पाठ्यक्रम के दौरान एक बड़ी बाधा साबित होता है। प्रगति की और विशेष रूप से ग्रामीण निवासियों के बीच एक प्रमुख सामाजिक समस्या है। कुपोषण एक ऐसी अवस्था है जब कोई व्यक्ति अपनी दैनिक पोषण संबंधी आवश्यकताओं को पूरा करने में असमर्थ होता है जब व्यक्ति आवश्यक कैलोरी का सेवन नहीं करते हैं तो वे कुपोषित हो जाते हैं और जब वे आवश्यकता से अधिक कैलोरी का सेवन करते हैं तो वे अति-पोषित हो जाते हैं। इन समस्याओं को हल करने

LIFE LESSON

One of the hardest things about improving your life is remembering to practice what you've learned in a moment of temptation, frustration, or hardship. Anyone can follow the strategy as they read about it, but remembering to stick to it in the real world is tough.

People like to judge other people. The peer pressure can sway you away from the path you started to carve for your future. Don't mind other people's aspirations, don't ever let someone else's goals and dreams influence your vision in life. It's your path and you decide where it takes you and how long it takes you to see it through.

If you want to have a good life with a successful career, emotional satisfaction, and trustworthy friends, you have to work hard towards it. Luck can take you only so far and the rest is entirely up to you, the amount of effort you put in every day, and the ability to learn from your mistakes. Don't think for a moment that someone else is going to fight your battles with the same vigor and devotion as you would.

PIRACY

The illegal replication of copyright material and subsequent sale of it in the "grey" market for far reduced rates are referred to as piracy. Because technology is so accessible, piracy has grown increasingly prevalent over time. It does not receive the national focus in Asian countries, and more so in India, because there are more interesting topics at hand. However, the sector, particularly the IT and music industries, has been actively trying to stop the rot. Once the origins of music piracy have been located, these organizations conduct raids with the assistance of the police. The penalties are not severe enough to serve as a deterrence, though, and there are not many convictions.

Piracy can be carried out in a variety of ways, including through video, cable, and DVD/CD piracy. Video piracy occurs when a movie is made into a videocassette without the producer, who has the legal right to do so, giving their consent. Film makers frequently sell the rights to the video to a third party, who then creates video cassettes to sell or lend (typically six weeks or more after the film's theatrical debut). Piracy is a rare occurrence on satellite channels because they are well-organized and rarely air movies without having obtained the required rights.

However, the geography of the Indian Ocean region is varied, ranging from the huge ocean of the Somali basin to the straits of Hormuz and Bab el-Mandeb, which are both tiny choke points. The total number of Somali pirate-related attacks in the Indian Ocean region peaked in 2011, when 237 occurrences were reported, and climbed to 557 for the five years between 2010 and 2014. In the six years from 2015 to 2020, this number dropped substantially to just fourteen, a decline that is widely seen as the consequence of cooperative efforts to lower maritime crimes.

A major national concern is the safety and uninterrupted flow of maritime trade through ships that use this route because it has a direct influence on our economy. The crew of the majority of foreign-flagged vessels is made up of Indian nationals, despite the fact that this task only makes up 13% of our trade (the remaining 80% is transported by foreign "bottoms"). This is because India has a sizable seafaring population (roughly 100,000), which makes up 6-7% of all seafarers worldwide. In the Eastern Arabian Sea and the Gulf of Aden, India is actively involved in anti-piracy activities. From October 2008, the Indian Navy started conducting anti-piracy patrols in the Gulf of Aden, and since then, a ship has been deployed continuously. In addition to escorting ships flying the Indian flag, other nations' ships have also received Ships flying other flags have also been protected in addition to those flying the Indian flag. So far, no Indian-escorted ship has been taken over by pirates.

The co-authors of this guidance intend to produce fresh threat guidance in early 2023 to assist owners, operators, and charterers in determining the risk of their voyages. In the beginning, this will concentrate on the Indian Ocean and the Black Sea, but it should eventually broaden in geographic coverage. We'll periodically examine the data and make any necessary updates.

IMPORTANCE OF PERSONAL SPACE

Personal space can be defined as the comfortable distance between you and another person, that you are talking to or standing next to. Someone invading your personal space can make you both comfortable and uncomfortable. When someone invades your personal space and makes you feel uncomfortable that means it's harming your personal space. For example, if you are standing in a queue at a shop and someone comes and stands right behind you, nearly touching you, this will make you feel very uncomfortable that means they are invading your personal space which you aren't comfortable in.

Some people like to measure their personal space by the lengths of their arms. You might have done this in Physical Education lessons, where you stick your arms out and move them around you to make sure you're not stood too close to anyone. You think of it like a bubble around you that protects you.

You can allow someone into your personal space if you want to and you're comfortable with it. For example, you might let someone into your personal space if you want a hug. These people should be people you know and trust, not strangers.

Personal space is important because it helps people feel safe and comfortable. If someone invades your personal space without your permission, it makes you feel quite uncomfortable and unwanted. Some children don't understand what personal space is, so they may need gentle reminders.

Personal space is a very crucial social skill for children. Understanding and respecting personal space, helps children to have good interactions with other people and it can keep them safe. Young children and some children with special educational needs like autism, will need extra help to understand what personal space is, and why it is important.

Teaching children about personal space can also teach them about their personal safety. If a stranger comes too close to them, they will know that they are invading their personal space. This makes them aware that there is something wrong and they might ask for help.

It also helps them to know about their right to privacy. It teaches them the appropriate ways in which someone can touch them. For example, they may need help from someone. The appropriate way to touch them would be to tap them on the shoulder instead of grabbing their arm.

This will also help them to set their boundaries and respect other person's boundary, when it comes to their personal space.

This also makes them understand that a stranger should never touch them or invade their personal space.

LEARN TO SAY NO WITHOUT FEELING GUILTY

The two small words that guide our actions every single day are “Yes and No”. In this article, I’ll be talking about how to say no without feeling guilty, which is really a hard part.

“Yes” has been acknowledged as an opportunity which engages people, builds relationship, and risk-taking. Saying “Yes” means making the most of every opportunity and encounter them. It makes you think “I CAN DO IT, PUT ME IN COACH”. We love the ambition which yes, draws out from us and we love the empowering mindset that comes from it.

But its antonym, “No”, is equally powerful. It plays a tremendous effect on our mental health, as it allows us to value ourselves more. In fact, sometimes it so powerful that it’s actually really hard to master. It helps us in prioritizing ourselves and allows us to set boundaries. You will never be able to become your authentic self, if you are continually bending to meet the needs of others. Saying no, allows us to choose where we put our time and energy. It allows us to focus on giving it to the people and part of life that deserves it.

When the guilt comes, just gently acknowledge it and move on with whatever you’re doing.

LIFE LESSONS WE ARE OFTEN TAUGHT TOO LATE

“A BIRD SITTING ON A TREE IS NEVER AFRAID OF THE BRANCH BREAKING BECAUSE HER TRUST IS NOT ON THE BRANCH BUT ON IT'S OWN WINGS. ALWAYS BELIEVE IN YOURSELF.”

Life is a continuous learning experience. Throughout our lives we keep rising and falling, picking up important lessons along the way. Some of these lessons come from experience, yet there are others that we learn watching others. Furthermore, there are many life lessons that we simply cannot learn until we face certain situations in our life. Most people would say that there are some lessons that come too late, catching us off-guard and unprepared.

1. Walk your own path

People like to judge other people. This peer pressure can make you stray from the path you started to carve for your future. Don't mind other people's aspirations, don't ever let someone else's goals and dreams influence your vision of life. It's your path and you decide where it takes you and how long it takes you to see it through.

2. Good things don't come easy

If you want to have a good life with a successful career, emotional satisfaction, and trustworthy friends you have to work hard. Luck can take you only so far and the rest is entirely up to you, the amount of effort you put in every day, and the ability to learn from your mistakes. Don't think for a moment that someone else is going to fight your battles with the same vigour and devotion as you would.

3. Never fail to try more

Even when we're feeling most prepared there is a chance we fail in accomplishing our goal. An athlete could lead the entire race only to fall just in front of the finish line and lose. This doesn't mean the athlete should stop competing; on the contrary, he would work even harder for the next competition. The results will come, eventually.

5. Make every moment count

Life goes by faster than we think. When you're in your twenties you think you'll stay there forever but before you know it you are in your thirties and it's too late for the things you wanted to do as a young person. Live your life to its full extent because life is short and we never know what tomorrow brings.

8. Live and let live

We often try to help people when we see they're making a mistake. This type of behaviour can lead us into all kinds of troubles and misunderstandings. Don't force your ideas onto others, let those who want your help and guidance seek you out. Sometimes it's best to stay away and let them come to you or you might seem intrusive to others.

IMAGINARY DOOR

Tick tock goes the clock,
Another door opens as another locks,
That door is what you feel through the hour,
When that time runs out the dread storm will shower,
The radiance of the doors will always change,
Like the deep ocean abyss we see as strange,
The door, can be warm and welcoming,
When it leaves the moment it came dread will be your reckoning,
The door can be cold with harsh intensity,
Leaving you in the new dread's dark density.

“माँ कसम है तुझको मेरी, की रोना नहीं”

सीमा पे एक जवान जो शहीद हो गया
संवेदनाओं के कितने बीज बो गया,
तिरंगे में लिपटी लाश उसकी घर पे आ गयी,
सिहर उठी हवाएँ, उदासी छा गयी,
तिरंगे में रखा खत जो उसकी माँ को दिख गया,
मरता हुआ जवान उस खत में लिख गया,
बलिदान को अब आसुओं से धोना नहीं है,
तुझको कसम है माँ मेरी की रोना नहीं है।
मुझको याद आ रहा है तेरा उंगली पकड़ना,
कंधे पे बिठाना मुझे बाहों में जकड़ना,
पगडंडियों की खेतों पे मैं तेज़ भागता,
सुनने को कहानी तेरी रातों को जागता,
पर बिन सुने कहानी तेरा लाल सो गया,
सोचा था तूने और कुछ और हो गया,
मुझसा न कोई घर में तेरे खिलौना नहीं है,
तुझको कसम है माँ मेरी की रोना नहीं है।
सोचा था तूने अपने लिए बहू लाएगी,
पोते को अपने हाथ से झूला झुलाएगी,
तुतलाती बोली पोते की सुन न सकी माँ,
आँचल में अपने कलियाँ तू चुन न सकी माँ,

न रंगोली बनी घर में न घोड़े पे मैं चढ़ा,
पतंग पे सवर हो यमलोक में चल पड़ा,
वहाँ माँ तेरे आँचल का तो बिछौना नहीं है,
तुझको कसम है माँ मेरी की रोना नहीं है।
बहना से कहना राखी पे याद न करे,
किस्मत को न कोसे कोई फरियाद न करे,
अब कौन उसे चोटी पकड़ कर चिढ़ाएगा,
कौन भाई दूज का निवाला खाएगा,
कहना के भाई बन कर अबकी बार आऊँगा,
सुहाग वाली चुनरी अब की बार लाऊँगा,
अब भाई और बहना में मेल होना नहीं है,
तुझको कसम है माँ मेरी की रोना नहीं है।
सरकार मेरे नाम से कई फ़ंड लाएगी,
चौराहों पे तुझको तमाशा बनाएगी,
अस्पताल स्कूलों के नाम रखेगी,
अनमोल शहादत का कुछ दाम रखेगी,
पर दलाओं की इस दलाली पर तू थूक देना माँ,
बेटे की मौत की कोई कीमत न लेना माँ,
भूखे भले मखमल पे हमको सोना नहीं है,
तुझको कसम है माँ मेरी की रोना नहीं है।

कोरोना महामारी का महिलाओं पर प्रभाव

भारत में किसी भी देशवासी ने ऐसी कल्पना नहीं की होगी कि देश में या विश्व में ऐसी महामारी का आगमन होगा जिससे इंसानों की पूरी की पूरी दिनचर्या ही बदल जाएगी और ऐसा ही हुआ। 2019 के नवंबर दिसंबर के महीने में चीन के वुहान शहर में कोरोना वायरस महामारी का आगमन हुआ और भारत में यह वायरस 29 जनवरी 2020 को केरल राज्य में पाया गया। शुरुआती दौर में लगा कि यह एक मामूली वायरस है परंतु धीरे-धीरे इसने घातक रूप लिया और पूरे विश्व में फैल गया। इसने इंसानों की जिंदगी और उनकी दिनचर्या को बदल दिया। कोरोनावायरस ने इंसानों के साथ जो किया वह यह है- कि उन्हें एक दूसरे से दूर कर दिया। कोरोनावायरस ने कुछ ऐसे शब्दों से परिचित कराया जिनका प्रयोग हम आम बोलचाल की भाषा में नहीं करते थे, वह शब्द है – अलगाव, क्वारंटाइन, सोशल - डिस्टेंसिंग आदि।

इनके अलावा कोरोनावायरस की सबसे बड़ी मार महिलाओं को झेलनी पड़ी। लॉक डाउन की वजह से लगभग सभी प्रकार की आर्थिक गतिविधियों पर ब्रेक लग गया। ऐसे में महिलाओं को घर के साथ-साथ पति और बच्चों को भी संभालना पड़ रहा था। व्यवसाय से जुड़ी हुई स्त्रियों के लिए वह काफी संकट की घड़ी थी। इस कोरोना काल में महिलाएं काफी हद तक शारीरिक और मानसिक तकलीफ से जूझ रही थी क्योंकि कुछ महिलाएं व्यवसाय कार्य तो करती ही थी, इसके साथ ही वह घर की अधिक जिम्मेदारियां भी लेती थी, जिससे उनके स्वास्थ्य पर नकारात्मक प्रभाव पड़ रहा था। इसका मुख्य कारण यह है कि हमारे समाज में अक्सर यह सुनने में आता है कि पुरुष बाहरी काम करेंगे और स्त्रियां घर संभालेंगी। इस मानसिक सोच ने स्त्रियों को शारीरिक व मानसिक रूप से कमजोर कर दिया है।

दरअसल हमारा समाज पुरुष प्रधान समाज विचारधारा को प्रोत्साहन देता है, जहां लड़कों को हमेशा लड़कियों से ऊपर महत्व दिया जाता है। मर्दानगी वह विचार है जो समाज के हर बेटे के अंदर बचपन से ही डाल दिया जाता है। उन्हें यह बता दिया जाता है कि कौन सा काम लड़कों का है और कौन सा काम

लड़कियों का है | यही वजह है कि महिलाओं को कोरोना काल में अधिक जिम्मेदारियां उठानी पड़ी और इसी कारण वह अवसाद का शिकार भी हुईं परंतु इसके साथ हम यह भी स्वीकार करते हैं कि कोरोनावायरस के सकारात्मक प्रभाव भी थे जैसे बहुत से लोगों व पुरुषों का कहना था कि घर पर रहने वाली महिलाएं कुछ काम नहीं करती तथा उनका सम्मान भी नहीं करती परंतु लॉकडाउन में जब वे पूरे दिन घर पर रहे तब उन्हें यह अहसास हुआ कि घर को चलाना व संभालना कोई आम बात नहीं है और यह भी महसूस किया गया कि जिंदगी में पैसे कमाना, भागदौड़ करना आदि चीजों में सुकून नहीं है असली सुकून तो परिवार के साथ समय व्यतीत करने में है |

खुद धूप में चलकर बच्चों के लिए रोटी लाता है पिता
उनकी ख्वाहिशों के लिए खुद के सपनों को भूल जाता है पिता
ओलाद की सुनहरी ज़िंदगी के लिए अपनी ज़िंदगी को खो देता है पिता
चार बेटों को पाल-पोस कर परवान चढ़ाने वाला पिता
फिर भी बुढ़ापे में किसी एक बेटे के सहारे के लिए तरस जाता है पिता
अपनी इच्छाओं को मारकर पालने वाली ओलाद की कठपुतली बन जाता है पिता
फिर यूँ ही बूढ़ा कहलाया जाता है पिता
ज़िंदगी के आखिरी सफर में अपनों के प्यार से मेहरूम रह जाता है पिता
पूरी ज़िंदगी ओलाद के नाम लिख जाता है पिता
फिर भी ज़िंदगी भर गम में रह जाता है पिता
अपनी जीवन भर की कमाई ओलाद के लिए छोड़ जाता है पिता
और थोड़े प्यार की आस में कब्र में लेट जाता है पिता
और इस तरह मर कर भी ओलाद का भला कर जाता है पिता

प्रकृति

हरी - हरी खेतों में बरस रहे हैं बूँदें
खुशी-खुशी से आया सावन भर गया मेरा आँगन
ऐसा लग रहा है जैसे मन की कलियाँ खिल गयीं
वैसे ऐसा कि आया बसंत लेके फूलों का जश्न
धूप से प्यासी मेरे तन को बूँदों ने दी ऐसी अँगड़ाई
कूद पड़ा मेरा तन-मन लगता है
मैं हूँ एक दामन यह संसार है कितना सुंदर
लेकिन लोग नहीं उतने अकलमंद यही है- एक निवेदन “न करो प्रकृति का शोषण” ।।

मेरा गांव

वो सूरज की अरुणाई थी
या धरती की तरुणाही थी,
उन पेड़ों की उस सर सर में
जाने कैसी शहनाई थी !
कुछ ओस की भीगी बूंदों में
वो कैसी अदभुत सरगम थी।
मन भीगा था, तन भीगा था।
वसुधा थोड़ी शरमाई थी।
खेतों की पीली सरसों भी।
योवन पर इतराती थी
वो धरती रोपती बाला भी
वो थोड़ी इठलाती थी
पीपल के बूढ़े पेड़ों में
एक धूप का झरोखा था।
ये मेरे गांव का योवन था।
बचपन में मेने देखा था ।
काका काकी, दादा दादी।
घंटों हमसे बतलाते थे
कुछ अपनी बातें कहते।
कुछ नई कथा सिखलाते थे

भारत में सामाजिक समस्याएं

भारत उन सभी प्रमुख क्षेत्रों में प्रगति कर रहा है, जिन्हें देश के विकास के लिए महत्वपूर्ण माना जाता है जैसे कि शिक्षा, प्रौद्योगिकी, संगठनात्मक संरचना, नीतियां, ग्रामीण क्षेत्र, कृषि पद्धति, उद्योग आदि। कुछ सामाजिक समस्याओं का प्रचलन रहा है जो गंभीर हैं और देश के विकास की राह में प्रमुख बाधाएँ सिद्ध हों—ये गरीबी, अशिक्षा, बेरोजगारी, बाल विवाह और कुपोषण हैं।

गरीबी वह स्थिति है जब व्यक्ति शिक्षा, आश्रय, भोजन और पोषण, कौशल के विकास, कपड़े और रोजगार अवसरों जैसे विभिन्न कारकों से वंचित रह जाता है। निरक्षरता एक ऐसी स्थिति है जब कोई व्यक्ति पढ़ने और लिखने में असमर्थ होता है, यह स्थिति किसी व्यक्ति को अपने जीवन यापन के लिए अच्छी गुणवत्ता वाली नौकरी प्राप्त करने में सक्षम नहीं बनाती है, इसलिए यह एक प्रमुख सामाजिक समस्या है। बेरोजगारी एक सामाजिक समस्या है जो कि कोई व्यक्ति बेरोजगार होता है, जब वह बेरोजगार होता है, तो वह उस आय को अर्जित करने में असमर्थ होता है जो कि एक सफल जीवन को लागू करने और स्वयं के साथ-साथ अपने परिवार के सदस्यों की सभी आवश्यकताओं को पूरा करने के लिए आवश्यक है।

एक और बड़ी समस्या बाल विवाह की है, जब 18 वर्ष से कम उम्र के बच्चों का विवाह होता है, तो यह न केवल उनके बल्कि उनके परिवारों को भी नकारात्मक और असंवैधानिक रूप से प्रभावित करता है, और यह पाठ्यक्रम के दौरान एक बड़ी बाधा साबित होता है। प्रगति की और विशेष रूप से ग्रामीण निवासियों के बीच एक प्रमुख सामाजिक समस्या है। कुपोषण एक ऐसी अवस्था है जब कोई व्यक्ति अपनी दैनिक पोषण संबंधी आवश्यकताओं को पूरा करने में असमर्थ होता है जब व्यक्ति आवश्यक कैलोरी का सेवन नहीं करते हैं तो वे कुपोषित हो जाते हैं और जब आवश्यकता से अधिक कैलोरी का सेवन करते हैं तो वे अति-पोषित हो जाते हैं।

नहीं चाहती घूमना गलियों में।

क्या गरीब इंसान नहीं होते हैं?
मुझे तो आता नहीं भेदभाव करना,
न मैं जाति जानती हूँ ना धर्म,
बस खा लेती हूँ, रूखा सूखा,
चाहे वो हिंदू का हो या मुस्लिम।
ये मुफलिसी मुझे बहुत सताती है,
बेवजह, बेवक्त मुझे याद आती है,
जिंदगी इतनी आसान कहां है।
जब झांकती हूँ खुद में,
मैं चाहती हूँ इस गरीबी को हरा दूँ,
संघर्ष इतना करूँ कि इसको भुला दूँ।

It has always been a platform for the students to showcase their talent as they get chance to post their articles on the area of interest and also on trending topics of the magazine. The magazine not only focuses on the trending topics but also on the achievements of students and staff which reflect their emerging talents.

The magazine will mirror the creative and innovative ideas of both the teachers as well as of students. The items not only mirror the creative talents of the contributors but also their analytical thinking.

With the introduction of the new course BBA in college, the department has ensured to provide an overall growth and development opportunities to the students in all aspects.

Wishing you all the very best for your future.

“Don’t let the appreciation of success get into your mind, Don’t let the criticisms of failure get into your heart” because at the end of the day nothing is permanent. A person learns something until he is alive. Learning is a lifelong process.

SRH Lifestyle

As a student of Comm-It Career Academy, I found the academic atmosphere conducive to learning, which facilitated identifying my area of interest. Apart from the robust curriculum, numerous seminars on various technologies were conducted, which I found to be incredibly valuable. I am grateful to the faculty for being extremely supportive and providing me with a plethora of opportunities to enhance and showcase my skills. I am very grateful to my teachers, who guided me for my career planning. It is because of their guidance only that I am working as a software developer today.

Be prepared for a wonderful three years filled with learning and opportunity - both inside and outside the classroom. To anyone who's thinking of joining the Awadh family, I'd strongly recommend it.

(Batch: 2018-21)

Current status: Going to Germany for higher studies

I completed my bachelor's in computer applications from Comm-It Career Academy. My time here has provided me with an academically stimulating environment. Comm-It Career Academy had done a splendid job by inculcating the ability in me. The teachers here are very supportive and guiding, and they have helped me learn and build strong foundational knowledge.

The faculty of my college has been continuously guiding me throughout the entire BCA course. Right now I have taken admission in one of the colleges in Germany for pursuing higher studies and my Visa process is also about to complete.

Comm-IT also helped me discover my own strengths and weaknesses. I developed self-motivation and discipline, along with study techniques that I can use for the rest of my life.

I earnestly believe that it is the extraordinary people at Awadh Bhawan who make it extraordinary, and there is no dearth of extraordinary people here, thus, making it destined for greatness!

Being a proud Comm-Itian, I really hope that my juniors will take Comm-It to new heights and grow out to be the best versions of themselves.

from Maharaja Surajmal Institute

Hello, I am Lipika, and I did my BCA from Comm-IT Academy. My college experience has been engaging and full of new learning. All the faculty here was experienced and very supportive, and I loved the family-like atmosphere that surrounded me. Our college's canteen was a lively and popular hangout place.

Right now I am pursuing my Masters in Business Administration from the Maharaja Surajmal Institute, New Delhi. I am really very thankful to the Comm-IT family for making me realize my actual skills and capabilities, and that's the only reason I am here today.

Comm-IT gave me a lot more than i expected. I learned, laughed, cried, and experienced the most beautiful things over there, and I still cherish those memories and learning. As a senior, i would advise that since there are only 3 years of college, you should enjoy it as much as possible.

COVID-19 PANDEMIC, HASN'T ALL BEEN BAD

In December 2019, the novel Corona-virus (Covid-19) first came to light in Wuhan, China and within one month only, it has been proclaimed as a public health emergency worldwide. The outbreak of Corona virus-related disease was coined as “Corona pandemic” by World Health Organization. This deadly virus has taken so many lives throughout the world. Despite imposing travel-related restrictions, social distancing, and other preventive measures to control this infection, the entire globe has witnessed a spike in Covid-19 cases. High fever, a dry cough, respiratory difficulties, chest pain, extreme shortness of breath, and bilateral pulmonary infiltration are all signs of Covid-19 virus-related infection. Other than vaccinations, this deadly virus forced people to change their eating habits and lifestyles willingly or unwillingly.

Although this pandemic has affected people’s psychological, dietary, health, and social behaviors, it hasn’t all been bad. The pandemic has changed everyone’s routines (maybe more than once) over the last year. Whether it’s learning to work from home, homeschooling the kids, or just spending more time at home, many of us have picked up new skills we never thought we would have. Though there are definitely things we all miss, and we’ve all had to make sacrifices, not everything about the last year has been bad. Many people have picked up new, healthy habits that benefit their bodies, minds, and social lives. Here are some healthy habits worth continuing after we move on from pandemic life.

Cooking (and Baking) More at Home

As our calendars freed up, we found more time to spend in the kitchen. Remember when everyone was making sourdough, Or banana bread and whipped coffee, the seemingly endless TikTok hacks and cooking trends made us reunite with our kitchens and get out of our comfort zones. There are ample benefits to making time for meals as a family. Plus, eating at home can help you save money and eat a little healthier.

Getting Outside

Since it is generally regarded as safe to be outdoors amid the COVID-19 pandemic, many people turned to nature as a way to leave the house and get some fresh air. Not only can it boost physical health, but also it can benefit your mental health. Whether it’s walking with friends outdoors or opting to work out in nature instead of the gym, the habit of getting outside regularly is worth continuing. Just remember to slather on the SPF as the weather warms up.

COVID-19 PANDEMIC, HASN'T ALL BEEN BAD

Prioritizing Self-Care

It's no doubt that the past year has taken its toll on our mental health and wellness. It also helped us put into perspective how important it is to prioritize all forms of health, including our physical, mental, and emotional health. This led to an increased interest in self-care to help us find relaxation in a not-very-relaxing year. Your wellness should come first, so we hope the increased interest in self-care products, apps, and more continues.

Connecting Intentionally

Sure, a Zoom happy hour isn't as fun as the real thing, and a call with your grandma is not the same as a hug. Yet, social distancing has actually strengthened connections for some. Since it was so hard to keep in touch, it showed intentionality and effort to family members and friends when you did the check-in. It felt especially important for those who might have been at an increased risk from the coronavirus. I started calling my grandparents once a week, and I wish I had started this routine years ago since it brightens my day and theirs as well. I will happily be continuing this habit well beyond the pandemic.

Getting More Sleep

Not having to commute might have given you some extra time in the mornings. Fewer events out of the house at night might have helped you get to bed earlier. For a variety of reasons, you might find yourself getting more sleep these days than you typically would. Sleep is important for health, from a healthier heart to improved immunity. We hope that everyone can keep up healthy sleep habits for more restful days, even when we can be more social.

The pandemic changed all of our lives in many ways, some of which will last long after it's over and we feel a sense of normalcy again. It seems like, not all of the changes over the last year were bad. From regular calls with loved ones to spending more time outdoors, these are some healthy habits to continue after the pandemic is over.

LESSON OF LIFE

Every story has a lesson to teach.

The lessons of life are always the same, but they are never the same. Every experience is different, every person's perspective is different, and every story is different.

When you think about all the things that have happened in your life, you will find that there are many lessons to be learned. Some of these lessons may be difficult to learn, but they will help you grow as a person and become wiser with time.

It's important to understand that we all have our own set of experiences, and it's important for us to share these experiences with others so that we can both grow from them.

I've learned that love means nothing without the other person being involved in your own world. I've learned that you need to stand up for yourself and what you want. I've learned that adulthood is a strange thing that takes careful consideration.

I've learned that you should never give up on somebody, even if they're giving up on themselves. I've come to understand that life is only a lesson and we must learn from it.

COLLEGE LIFE ENDS LIKE A THREE HOURS MOVIE

Stepping into a new life where
One faces oneself

Some consider everything a race
And chase after them all,
While others find it difficult to even tie their shoe lace.

Many here care for you,
But you care for a select few

Lots of leisure, lots of pressure
In the mindst of which, some search for treasure.

The greatest invention being the headset without which no one's heads are fit
More sleep, less work, but still feeling tired every other minute.

Sudden decisions are rare output even don't care for taking the next
More dance, more wishes,
Many an exam and test.

Suddenly, when you look back,
The poster says 'The End',
The 35040 hours of these four years
are just like the three hours of a movie

Passing by in the snap of your fingers
Leaving behind many a memory that lingers.

FIRST TRIP OF MY LIFE

We went to visit Manali in November 2018. That was the first tour of my life. I was very excited. I went with my cousins and family. We went by Volvo bus and, it took around 18 hours to reach there. I was very excited the whole way. I can't forget that morning view when i opened my eyes and our bus was going up the mountain road. Those side scenes were very beautiful.

Everything in the world has its own fun, but you can feel the joy and fun of hilly areas only when you visit these places. That day, we saw all the side scenes of the places where we traveled. We travelled from Manali to Solang Valley, Spiti Valley, Manikaran, and many other places. That day, we were all very tired after travelling such a long distance, but I was still feeling very energetic after reaching there.

Then the next day we decided to go to the Rohtang Pass. It is a high mountain pass on the eastern end of the Pir Panjal Range of the Himalayas, around 51 km from Manali in the Indian state of Himachal Pradesh. It connects the Kullu Valley with the Lahaul and Spiti valleys of Himachal Pradesh.

As we began to go there, it was approximately about 1 hour to reach there, we noticed that our mobile networks had gone. As we were close to the destination and we were moving up the mountain, the cold became unbearable. It was bone chilling cold there. At higher altitudes, the oxygen level starts decreasing, so we had to drink water every minute because there we did not get enough oxygen.

FIRST TRIP OF MY LIFE

When we reached there, we saw that we were above the clouds, and mountains were covered with snow all around. Our parents told us not to go much higher, but we all made a plan to go higher without telling anyone. So, we went up the mountains and didn't look back, after reaching a long distance we realised that we had lost our way.

That time, only me and my cousins were at that place, and there was nobody around. Unfortunately, after a few minutes, the weather started to change, and the whole place became foggy, and suddenly it started to rain very heavily. At that time, we got very scared, and my hands and feet got numb, and I realised I had breathlessness. We began calling our family. Those moments were horrible, and it was the worst experience of my life because, at that time i thought that my life was about to end.

As it was raining there, we were left with no option other than to stay there. After almost an hour, the rain suddenly stopped, and the way was clear and visible. It gave us some relief. After that, we all started moving down, holding each other's hands and after walking for a long time, we saw our family members. After seeing them, I felt a sign of relief. As soon as they saw us, they started crying because they were looking for us because we were missing and drenched in the rain. That day, I realised that your parents are the ones who care the most about you. They love and care for you more than themselves. So we should always listen to them.

THE EFFECT OF LOCKDOWN ON THE STUDENTS

The COVID-19 pandemic has without a doubt exacerbated major economic and social challenges across the globe. As we look back on the past two years and the harsh repercussions of the pandemic that continue today, it is apparent that one of the most impacted sectors was education. Neither the world nor educational institutions were prepared to embrace the shift to online platforms brought on at lightning speed. Educational institutions worldwide promptly responded to the pandemic by going online. In record time, students moved from physical spaces that provided them with much-needed social interactions, to being seated behind a screen for hours on end.

In India, the shift to online platforms happened at a slower pace, and was mainly driven by the academic institutions that already had digital learning platforms in place, and the means to operate them. But the effectiveness of online learning is still the subject of debate. Experts have been studying the retention of information by students and how remote learning has impacted the development and social skills of children.

In an article by Vikram R. Jadhav et. al., after taking the opinions of the students, it was revealed that lockdown has a definite effect on education. Due to lockdown issues, students can't concentrate on their studies, and some students say that there is a positive impact. Exams should be conducted online only and, college professors should take online lectures during the lockdown period. Some students also think that it is an opportunity to innovate on lockdown issues.

Even after the lockdown, we are so used to technology that teachers are still sending work via phone, and we are still using devices to complete our assignments.

SOME LIFE LESSONS I HAVE LEARNED

Life is a journey filled with ups and downs, twists and turns, and numerous learning opportunities. Throughout the years, I have learned many valuable lessons that have helped shape me into the person I am today. Here are a few of the most important ones:

- The importance of gratitude and mindfulness: It's easy to get caught up in the chaos of life and focus on the negatives, but taking a moment to appreciate the good things in life can make all the difference. Practice gratitude by regularly reflecting on the things you are thankful for and trying to stay present in the moment by practising mindfulness techniques like meditation or deep breathing.
- The value of hard work and persistence: Success rarely comes easy, and it often requires a lot of hard work and dedication. Don't be afraid to put in the effort, even when things get tough. Keep pushing through, and eventually, you will see the fruits of your labor. I realised this thing so many times in my life. For eg: when I prepared for my college presentation and I bagged 1st price for it. Really hard work never goes in vain.
- The importance of communication and relationships: Strong relationships are built on effective communication and mutual understanding. Make an effort to listen actively and communicate openly and honestly with others. Nurture your relationships and invest time in them – they are one of the most important sources of happiness and fulfilment in life.
- The beauty of learning and growth: Never stop learning and growing as a person. Embrace new experiences and challenges, and be open to learning from them. There is always more to learn and discover, and the journey of self-improvement is a lifelong one. From all the good and bad experiences i have had so far, what I have learned is to be patient during tough times. With this strategy, I've learned to make better decisions in my life.
- The power of resilience: Life isn't always easy, and there will be times when you face challenges and setbacks. It's important to remember that these moments are temporary and that you have the strength and resilience to overcome them. Believe in yourself and your ability to bounce back, and don't let setbacks define you.

These are just a few of the many life lessons I have learned over the years. I hope they inspire you to reflect on your own journey and the valuable lessons you have learned along the way.

MY TRAVELLING STORY TO JAIPUR

I was always fascinated by the pink city of India, Jaipur. So, when I got the chance to visit it, I was thrilled. It was a long and arduous journey, but I was determined to reach my destination: the beautiful city of Jaipur. I decided to take a train to Jaipur and booked my ticket in advance.

On the day of my departure, I was so excited that I reached the station an hour early. The train journey was amazing. From the windows, I could see the beautiful landscape of Rajasthan. Along the way, I encountered many unique and fascinating sights. I was amazed by the sheer beauty of the Udaipur lake and the intricately carved temples of Chittorgarh. I also saw many interesting animals, such as wild boar, deer, and even a few monkeys!

After a long journey, I finally reached Jaipur, I was exhausted but ecstatic. The city was everything I had imagined it to be: vibrant, colourful, and full of life. I took a taxi to my hotel and checked in. I was amazed to see the beauty of the city. The buildings were painted in pink, and there were so many historical monuments. I spent the next couple of days exploring the city. I visited the Amer Fort, City Palace, and Hawa Mahal. I also went to the Jaipur Bazaar to buy some souvenirs for my family and friends. I also tried some of the local delicacies, like daal-baati-churma and ghevar.

The days I spent in Jaipur were the best days of my life. I had the most amazing time and enjoyed every moment of my trip. I will definitely visit Jaipur.

QUALITIES OF A GOOD STUDENT

Based on my research, I am listing the characteristics of a good student.

1. Attitude: Basically, a good student has to have the capacity and willingness to examine new topics, even if the topics aren't interesting.
2. Academic Talents: Acquiring educational talents is the most essential quality of a good student. The ability to examine comprehensively, to put in writing effectively, to talk fluently, and to speak clearly are the important things in the areas where a good student has to be proficient.
3. Ability: A good student has to have the capacity to observe the outcomes of his or her mastery in order to acquire the desired dreams in an innovative way.
4. Perceptiveness: How nicely a student can interpret and perceive meanings from conversations; however, an average student regularly misunderstands the authentic thoughts of a speaker or author and derives a wrong conclusion.
5. Self-Discipline: Discipline in coping with the time is an essential thing that each student has to own. Often, delaying the tasks, such as writing assignments, studying textual content books, newspapers, etc. might also positively affect the capacity of a student to supply the goods.
6. Understanding in Place of Memorizing Ideas: A lot of surveys recommend that students have to apprehend the ideas instead of just memorising them. The memorized statistics and theories will live in college students' reminiscence until they go away to school, university. Once out of school, the students will totally forget the ideas that they have learned. A good student continually understands, as opposed to memorising the ideas.
7. Behaviour: A good student too should realise how to behave with his or her classmates, teachers, father, mother, and elders.
8. Asking Doubts: A good student does not hesitate to ask questions for you to clear his or her doubts.

MENTAL HEALTH CARE

Mental health includes our emotional, psychological, and social well-being. It affects how we think, feel, and act. It also helps determine how we handle stress, relate to others, and make choices.

In recent years, there has been increasing acknowledgement of the important role mental health plays in achieving global development goals. Depression is one of the leading causes of disability. Suicide is the fourth leading cause of death among 15 to 29-year-olds.

Many factors contribute to mental health problems, including biological factors such as genes or brain chemistry, life experiences such as trauma or abuse and Family history of mental health problems.

Following feelings or behaviours can be an early warning sign of a problem:

- Pulling away from people and usual activities
- Having low or no energy
- Feeling numb or like nothing matters
- Feeling helpless or hopeless
- Smoking, drinking, or using drugs more than usual
- Feeling unusually confused, forgetful, on edge, angry, upset, worried, or scared
- Yelling or fighting with family and friends
- Experiencing severe mood swings that cause problems in relationships
- Thinking of harming yourself or others
- Inability to perform daily tasks like taking care of your kids or getting to work or school.

Mental health care includes many factors, like diagnosis, prevention, and education, but treatment remains one of the most important components of comprehensive care. Treatment is so important because mental illnesses are real health conditions, and much like physical health conditions, they do not get better without treatment. It can be treated with medications, therapy, crisis and emergency care and alternative treatments.

LIFE

What is life?

Sitting in a closed room

with beautiful interiors

Or being mesmerized by a waterfall

Listening to big speakers or being bird songs listeners.

Is it life?

Having lots of money

With all luxuries

Or is it life.

Having lots of memories

Creating new one, every moment.

So what is life?

A confusion or a mystery?

MY TRAVEL STORY

Trip to Manali

My trip to Manali began early one morning. I woke up at 4 AM, and I was ready to go! I had packed all my essentials, so I was ready to hit the road.

I was accompanied by my family, and we made sure to take frequent stops along the way. We stopped at different restaurants and dhabas, and even stopped at some roadside attractions. The journey was quite pleasant, and the scenery was beautiful.

The drive to Manali was quite long, but it was definitely worth the wait. After about 12 hours, we finally arrived in Manali. We were all exhausted but excited to explore the city.

We spent the next few days exploring the city and its surroundings. We visited the Hadimba Temple, the Manikaran Hot Springs, and even took a cable car ride to the Rohtang Pass.

The mountain views from the pass were breathtaking, and it was definitely worth the visit. We also went trekking in the mountains and visited the picturesque villages in the area.

The time spent in Manali was unforgettable, and it's a place that I will always remember.

JANTA CURFEW: AN UNOFFICIAL BREAK

The whole world was scared, every day we used to hear the news of people losing their near and dear ones, and everyone was worried about their lives. Yes, I am talking about the pandemic of 2020. That pandemic gave me so much experience and life lessons, and I am going to share one of these experiences with you.

In March 2020, our honourable prime minister announced a Janta curfew. This was the first time I heard something like that, even though it was a new thing for everyone in the country. The curfew was announced on 22nd March 2020. On 21st March 2020 I was talking and chilling with my cousins upto the late night. In the early morning, before the sun rose, one of my cousins asked me to go on a walk with him. The curfew was about to start when we went for the morning walk. He told me that his friend, who lives alone in Delhi, is leaving for his hometown, so we have to drop him off at the railway station. So we went to drop him off before the Janta curfew started.

While returning home, Janta curfew had started, and auto drivers were asking twice about the actual fare. So we agreed because we were left with no other choice, and I disobeyed Janta's curfew unintentionally. There was hardly any vehicle on the road and only few people were there on the roadsides. On the way, we were stopped at many places to inquire where we were going. I was extremely nervous and terrified. I was feared by thinking the consequences of that deadly Coronavirus. I was thinking about how people would manage their day to day activities if the curfew continued for long time. By God's grace, I finally reached home safely, and I felt a little relaxed.

LIFE IS A CONTINUOUS LEARNING EXPERIENCE

Throughout our lives, we keep rising and falling, picking up important lessons along the way. Some of these lessons come from experience, yet there are others that we learn from watching others or reading about in books. No matter how much we learn from the books there is a significant difference between practical and theoretical experience. Furthermore, there are many life lessons that we simply cannot learn until we face certain situations in our lives. Most people would say that there are some lessons that come too late, catching us off-guard and unprepared.

The following list reveals some of the most important lessons in life that people learn the hard way.

1. Walk your own path

People like to judge other people. This peer pressure can make you stray from the path you started to carve for your future. Don't mind other people's aspirations, don't ever let someone else's goals and dreams influence your vision of life. It's your path, and you decide where it takes you and how long it takes you to see it through.

2. Don't hesitate when you should act

There is an old Roman proverb that people often quote: "Carpe diem," – meaning "seize the day". More often than not, we fail to act due to a lack of confidence or courage. This hesitation keeps us from moving forward and puts us in a cage of wondering what might have been. Whenever you feel it's time to act, take action. No matter the outcome, you will end up smarter than before.

3. Experience what you have learned

No matter how much we think we know about some topic, it's only after we have put that knowledge to use that we get confirmation of the actual level of understanding that we possess. Sure, we could read about painting, learn all the techniques and brush type and colour palettes, etc. but only when we get in front of a canvas and start painting do we put our knowledge to the test.

As EduGeeksClub's career expert, Julia Smith, once wrote: "Young people often face difficulties when it comes to putting what they have learned into practice; therefore, all this knowledge becomes useless when it should be the fuel that propels their careers."

LIFE IS A CONTINUOUS LEARNING EXPERIENCE

4. Good things don't come easy

If you want to have a good life with a successful career, emotional satisfaction, and trustworthy friends, you have to work hard. Luck can take you only so far, and the rest is entirely up to you, the amount of effort you put in every day, and the ability to learn from your mistakes. Don't think for a moment that someone else is going to fight your battles with the same vigour and devotion as you would.

5. Never fail to try more

Even when we're feeling most prepared there is a chance we fail in accomplishing our goal. An athlete could lead the entire race only to fall just in front of the finish line and lose. This doesn't mean the athlete should stop competing; on the contrary, he should work even harder for the next competition. The results will come, eventually.

6. Take care of your health early

When we're young, we can push our body to its limits day after day. It seems as though nothing can touch us and we are invincible. However, as we grow older, all the parties, drinking, smoking, and eating fast food take a toll on our health. Start developing healthy habits while you're still young and healthy. Take regular checkups with your doctor and dentist in order to prevent future problems.

7. Make every moment count

Life goes by faster than we think. When you're in your twenties, you think you'll stay there forever, but before you know it, you are in your thirties, and it's too late for the things you wanted to do as a young person. Live your life to its full extent because life is short and we never know what tomorrow brings.

8. Live and let live

We often try to help people when we see they're making a mistake. This type of behaviour can lead us into all kinds of trouble and misunderstandings. Don't force your ideas on others, let those who want your help and guidance seek you out. Sometimes it's best to stay away and let them come to you, or you might seem intrusive to others.

LIFE IS A CONTINUOUS LEARNING EXPERIENCE

9. Be flexible with your goals

Sometimes we feel it's the right time to take action and put our plans in motion, only to realize that we were wrong. It's important to analyse our current position and how our activities could influence our future. Sometimes it's better to postpone a certain goal or even change it for the time being. Accepting a promotion at the wrong time could get us in more trouble than good if the time is not right.

10. For every action, there's an equal opposite reaction

Before you say something or act in a certain way, think about the consequences. A person could be unprepared to hear the truth or won't respond well to our gesture, no matter how good our intentions are. Treat each word with caution.

Take these pieces of advice as guidance, not as a rule. Your life is your own, and you know what's best for you. However, keep in mind that the morning is wiser than the evening. Enjoy life!

MY TRAVEL STORY: A HORRIBLE EXPERIENCE

I went to Rajasthan in August 2022 with my cousin sister. There, we visited so many places like Udaipur palace, Jaipur, Jaisalmer, Jodhpur, and so many other places. But a horrible and scary incident happened to me in Jaisalmer, which is also known as the Golden City. We stayed in a hotel there. We had purchased a tour package so that a guide could accompany us to all of the destinations and provide information about the locations.

We arrived at the hotel late at night. We had taken a three-day package. On the first day, we went with a guide and explored many places. On the second day, my cousin told me that she was not feeling well and she would stay in the hotel. So I decided to go alone, and i got ready to explore the other places. Then after few minutes, one of the hotel employee came to us and asked to go with the Guide. I left the hotel and sat in an open Jeep with the guide.

He took me to the Jaisalmer palaces and many other local places. After visiting some places, he told me that he would take me to the desert. I was very excited to see the deserts, so I agreed to go with him. He took me to deserts, but on the way I felt something wrong when I realised that he had been driving the Jeep for 2 hours. It was so dark and late night and there were no humans and not even animals on the way. It was so lonely place, i really got scared and I started asking him how far is the place but he didn't answered me. Then he turned the jeep into the forest. There i felt like that there were some people around, but I could not see anyone because it was too dark to see. I was very scared.

I didn't understand what I should do. Then i hear as if somebody was crying and creeping which was too scary, but there I could not see anyone who was crying. That was a haunted type of place and i was so terrified there that i thought I'd never return home. Then I started praying to my god, and immediately I asked my guide to stop the jeep. I raised my voice and, i told him bravely that I wanted to go back to the hotel. He asked me, " What happened, madam?" i replied that i didn't want to go there, drop me back at my hotel, but he kept asking again and again what happened.

Fortunately, my mobile network was very clear at that time, and i started to call my relatives and talk to them. I did not make the guide realise that i was scared. I was talking normally with my relatives, and i told them where we were at that place. I told them about the guide also who was driving the jeep. I was pretending in front of the guide as if everything were normal and okay. Then the guide turned the jeep and drop me off at my hotel. Finally, when I reached the hotel, I got a sign of relief. After that, I filed a complaint against that guide, and i cancelled the trip. It was the most horrible trip of my life. I will never forget that trip.

A FAMILY ADVENTURE TO BHOPAL

I visited Bhopal, a city in Madhya Pradesh, India, with my family a few years ago. We had a lot of fun playing games on the train ride to Bhopal. When we reached there, it was a dream like place. It was a place full of beautiful mountains and lakes. By the way, Bhopal is also called “The City of Lakes.”

We went to a place called Kerva Dam in Bhopal, which was kind of a small waterfall, and it was next to unbelievable beauty! All the places in Bhopal are so close together that when you start your journey to go somewhere within Bhopal, you’ll reach there in no time. It’s a completely different world from Delhi, where we have to spend so much time to reach somewhere, Bhopal is free from annoying traffic jams.

Also, we went to Sair Sapata, which is an amusement park, and that was also very awesome. The Bhopal visit has been the best visit for me. If you are a travel freak, Bhopal is a must visit place!

PANDEMIC PROVED TO BE A ROLE MODEL FOR INITIATING THE BUSINESS FOR SOME PEOPLE

I am going to narrate the story of a struggling boy who is known to me. This story is about pandemic times. The boy's story is an example of how the pandemic been a good learning experience and how it served as a role model for initiating the business for many people who had not even thought to do that.

This is the story of a boy who faced many challenges during a time when the entire world was dealing with a dangerous disease called Coronavirus, which began in the year 2019 and instilled fear in everyone's heart.

At the time of that pandemic, when everyone was stuck in their houses, the news and reporters were making people scared about Covid 19. There was a boy who fought against all odds. Due to the Pandemic's lockdown, the boy's family ran out of money during the Pandemic, so he decided to start a business buying and selling fruits. He started collecting information related to the business from people who used to do the same work . He started work with little capital in hand and started business on a small scale.

However, the work was not as simple as he had thought to be . So he worked very hard during that pandemic. He worked as a roadside vendor for around 6 months. After earning some money, the boy thought to boost his business. So he talked to many other vendors and got to know how to take his business to the next level. After that, he had enough information to make more progress in business.

Many people then got to know that the boy was selling fruits at much cheaper rates than the market rates, but still he did not get many customers. This made the boy feel a little down. After a few months, a vendor came to him as a divine messenger. He told him that many vendors would buy from him. The boy got motivated, and he started to do his business with much more enthusiasm.

After a few weeks, the boy started to get more and more orders. He worked so hard and well that today around 10 to 15 vendors work under him, and the boy supervises them.

The story makes us realise that we should never lose hope. We should work hard and have faith in God. We should have patience in tough times and, we should face and fight such situations and be someone's role model too.

TRUTH OF LIFE

We all have one life to live, and similarly, we have one chance to die. Our lives are the preparation, and death is the final exam, which everyone wants to pass. As a result, we should also prepare for death, because death is unavoidable for anyone who has been born.

People fear even thinking about death, but that's a natural thing that will happen to everyone in this world. The way in which a person spends his life determines how he will be delivered to death. A person takes nothing with him after death except for the good things he has. There will be no money, no fame, no relation, and no assets with us. What goes with us after death is perceptible work done by us in our whole life.

Let us grasp this concept of life, death, relationships, and everything else through the following short story:

Once upon a time, there was a rich king who had four wives. He loved the fourth wife the most and adorned her with rich robes and treated her to the finest delicacies.

He also loved his third wife very much and was always showing her off to neighbouring kingdoms. However, he feared that one day she would leave him for someone else.

He also loved his second wife. She was intelligent and was always kind, considerate, and patient with him. Whenever the King faced a problem, he could confide in her, and she would help him get through the difficult times. The King's first wife was a very loyal partner and had made great contributions towards maintaining his wealth and kingdom. However, he did not love his first wife.

One day the king fell ill, and he knew his time was short. He thought of his luxurious life and wondered, "I now have four wives with me, but when I die, I'll be all alone."

Thus, he asked the fourth wife, "I have loved you the most, endowed you with the finest clothing, and showered great care over you. Now that I am dying, will you follow me and keep me company?" "No way!" replied the fourth wife, and she walked away without another word. Her answer cut like a sharp knife right into his heart.

The sad King then asked his third wife, "I have loved you all my life. Now that I'm dying, will you follow me and keep me company?" "No!" she replied "Life is too good! When you die, I am going to remarry!" His heart sank and turned cold.

TRUTH OF LIFE

He then asked the 2nd wife, "I have always turned to you for help and you've always been there for me. When I die will you follow me and keep me company?" "I'm sorry, I can't help you out this time!" replied the second wife. "At the very most, I can send you to your grave." Her answer came like a bolt of lightning, and the king was devastated.

Then a voice called out: "I'll leave with you and follow you no matter where you go."

The king looked up, and there was his first wife. She was so skinny because she suffered from malnutrition and neglect. Greatly grieved, the King said, "I should have taken better care of you when I had the chance!"

In truth, we all have four wives in our lives: Our 4th wife is our body. No matter how much time and effort was lavish in making it look good, it will leave us when we die. Our 3rd wife is our possessions, status and wealth. When we die, it will all go to others. Our 2nd wife is our family and friends. No matter how much they been there for us, the furthest they can stay by us is up to the grave. And our 1st wife is our soul – often neglected in pursuit of wealth, power and pleasures of the world. However our identity as a spirit soul is going to be maintained wherever we go, whatever bodies we acquire and whatever destination we achieve. So, we should cultivate, strengthen and cherish this existential reality now.
