Historical significance of Constitution Day

"On 26th January 1950, India will be an independent country," father of Indian Constitution BR Ambedkar had said as he presented the draft of Indian Constitution 75 years ago. But this optimism was accompanied by the anxiety of "Will she maintain her independence or will she lose it again?"

This comes a day after the Supreme Court rejected petitions that sought to challenge the 1976 amendment to the Constitution, which introduced the terms "socialist," "secular," and "integrity" into the Preamble. These words were added through the 42nd Constitutional Amendment, passed during the tenure of the Indira Gandhi government.
