

Report on Slogan Writing Competition on World Environment Day (June Activity)

(Under Eco Club)

To mark the occasion of World Environment Day 2025, the Institute of Vocational Studies organized a Slogan Writing Competition on 31 May 2025 with the aim of raising awareness about environmental conservation and encouraging students to express their thoughts creatively.

The event was held in the ground floor room no. 2 and witnessed enthusiastic participation from students across various departments. The theme for this year's World Environment Day, "Restore Our Earth," was reflected in the slogans submitted by the participants. The competition provided a platform for students to showcase their creativity, concern for the environment, and ability to communicate impactful messages through short and powerful slogans. Over 20 of the D.El.Ed students took part in the event. The entries were judged based on originality, relevance to the theme, creativity, and clarity of message. A panel of faculty members from the English and Environmental Science departments evaluated the submissions.

The top slogans highlighted key environmental issues such as pollution, climate change, deforestation, water conservation, and the importance of sustainable living. Some of the most impactful slogans included:

"Earth is our home—don't trash it!"

"Plant trees today for a greener tomorrow."

"Be the change you wish to see in the environment."

The winners were announced at the end of the event. All winners received eco-friendly gift hampers as tokens of appreciation. The Principal, Dr. Mandira Gupta, addressed the participants and appreciated their efforts.

It served as a reminder that even small initiatives like writing a slogan can contribute to a larger movement for environmental protection. This activity was conducted under the guidance of faculty.
