DEPUTY CHIEF EDITOR'S MESSAGE

शिक्षा सबसे शक्तिशाली हथियार है जिसे आप दुनिया को बदलने के उपयोग कर सकते हो।

– नेल्सन मंडेला

मेरे लिए यह प्रसन्नता का विषय है कि हमारा महाविद्यालय प्रतिवर्ष वार्षिक पत्रिका "अवध रेडिअन्स" (2024-25) प्रकाशित करता है। मैं अपने विवेकशील पाठकों से पिछले अंको के लिए मिली प्रशंसा के लिए आभार व्यक्त करती हूँ । यह पत्रिका का 19 वां अंक है ,जिसका विषय है - मृगतृष्णा (Mirage) एक ऐसी स्थिति है, जिसमें इंसान अपने जीवन में कुछ ऐसी चीज़ों का पीछा करता है, जो वास्तव में होती ही नहीं या जो हमेशा दूर लगती हैं। यह भौतिक, मानसिक, या आध्यात्मिक स्तर पर हो सकता है। मृगतृष्णा हमें यह सीख देती है कि हमें वास्तविकता को स्वीकार करना चाहिए और असंभव इच्छाओं का पीछा करने के बजाय अपने जीवन के उद्देश्य पर ध्यान केंद्रित करना चाहिए।

हमारी महाविद्यालय पत्रिका एक ऐसा मंच है जो हमें अपने विचारों, रचनात्मकता एवं प्रतिभाओं को साझा करने का अवसर प्रदान करती है। यह केवल एक प्रकाशन नहीं है बल्कि शिक्षा के प्रति हमारी सामूहिक सोच, नवाचार एवं प्रतिबद्धता का प्रतिबिंब है। शिक्षा केवल पुस्तकों तक सीमित नहीं है, यह हमारी सोच का विस्तार करने, हमारे सपनों को दिशा देने और समाज को बेहतर बनाने का माध्यम है। यह पत्रिका इसी प्रयास का एक उदाहरण है। इसमें शामिल प्रत्येक लेख, कविता, रचना एवं विचार न केवल आपके ज्ञान को समृद्ध करेंगे बल्कि आपको नई प्रेरणा एवं ऊर्जा भी देंगे। मुझे विश्वास है कि हमारे विद्यार्थी आगे चलकर प्रबुद्ध,देशभक्त एवं विविध कौशलों से परिपूर्ण सभ्य नागरिक बनेंगे एवं समाज और देश के विकास में अपना यथासंभव सक्रिय योगदान देकर अपने मानव जीवन को सफल बनाएँगे।

मैं श्री नौशाद खालिद, प्रबंध ट्रस्टी, श्री खालिद हाशमी, निदेशक आईवीएस और श्री रिजवान अहमद को उनके निरंतर समर्थन और प्रोत्साहन के लिए आभार व्यक्त करना चाहती हूँ I मैं इस अवसर पर हमारी प्रिंसिपल डॉ. मंदिरा गुप्ता को धन्यवाद देती हूँ , जिनके निरंतर समर्थन और प्रेरणा से प्रकाशन को आगे बढ़ाने में बहुत मदद मिली है। मैं कॉलेज पत्रिका को सफल बनाने में संपादकीय टीम और योगदानकर्ताओं को उनकी कड़ी मेहनत और समर्थन के लिए भी धन्यवाद देती हूँ I आपका योगदान न केवल इस पत्रिका को उत्कृष्ट बनाएगा बल्कि यह हमारी शैक्षिक संस्कृति को भी मजबूत करेगा। आइए, हम सब मिलकर इस पत्रिका को नई ऊंचाइयों पर ले जाएं।

छात्र संपादक का संदेश

प्रिय विद्यार्थियों, अध्यापकों और हमारे संस्थान समुदाय के सभी सदस्यों,

यह मेरे लिए गर्व और सम्मान का विषय है कि मुझे इस वर्ष की पत्रिका के छात्र संपादक के रूप में कार्य करने का अवसर मिला। हमारे संस्थान की यह पत्रिका न केवल एक साधारण प्रकाशन है, बल्कि यह हमारे विचारों, कृतियों और सृजनात्मकता का प्रकट रूप है। इस पत्रिका में हम सभी छात्र अपने विचारों और अनुभवों को साझा करते हैं, जिससे यह एक सशक्त मंच बन जाता है, जहां हम अपनी आवाज़ को समाज के सामने प्रस्तुत कर सकते हैं।

इस पत्रिका के माध्यम से, हम छात्रों की रचनात्मकता, विचारशीलता और प्रतिभा को सामने लाने का प्रयास करते हैं। यह पत्रिका हमारे विचारों को संगठित करने, अपनी लेखनी को परिष्कृत करने और हमारे कार्यों को दूसरों के सामने प्रस्तुत करने का एक बेहतरीन तरीका है। हमें गर्व है कि इस पत्रिका में हमारे संस्थान के छात्र अपनी कहानियों, कविताओं, चित्रों, निबंधों और विचारों के माध्यम से अपनी दृष्टि व्यक्त करते हैं।

इसके अंतर्गत हम विविध विषयों पर लेख प्रस्तुत कर रहे हैं, जो हमारे समाज, संस्कृति, विज्ञान, और जीवन के विभिन्न पहलुओं को छूने का प्रयास करते हैं ।छात्रों द्वारा लिखित

निबंध, कविताएँ, और लघु कहानियाँ न केवल हमारे भीतर की रचनात्मकता को उजागर करती हैं, बल्कि वे हमें समाज के विभिन्न मुद्दों पर सोचने और समझने का अवसर भी प्रदान करती हैं। इस अंक का मुख्य उद्देश्य यही है कि हम एक सशक्त और सकारात्मक विचारधारा को बढ़ावा दें और विद्यार्थियों को अपने विचार व्यक्त करने के लिए प्रेरित करें।

अवध पत्रिका का एक ओर महत्वपूर्ण उद्देश्य यह है कि यह छात्रों के बीच संवाद स्थापित करने का एक साधन बने। इसमें प्रकाशित होने वाले लेख और विचार न केवल व्यक्तिगत दृष्टिकोणों को सामने लाते हैं, बल्कि यह हमारी सामूहिक चेतना को भी दर्शाते हैं। यही कारण है कि हम प्रत्येक छात्र को इस पत्रिका का हिस्सा बनने के लिए प्रेरित करते हैं, ताकि हम एक दूसरे से सीख सकें और एक सशक्त और समृद्ध समाज की रचना कर सकें।

एक संपादक के रूप में, मैं यह कह सकता हूं कि इस पत्रिका के संपादन में मेरा प्रयास केवल लेखों को जोड़ने का नहीं है, बल्कि इसका उद्देश्य है कि हम एक ऐसा प्लेटफार्म प्रदान करें, जो प्रत्येक छात्र को अपने विचार और रचनाएँ साझा करने का अवसर दे। हम चाहते हैं कि हमारी पत्रिका में प्रकाशित हर लेख और रचनात्मकता एक नई दिशा और प्रेरणा प्रदान करे।

हमें गर्व है कि हमारे अवध परिवार में हर छात्र और शिक्षक अपनी अलग पहचान रखता है और इसी विविधता से हमारी पत्रिका को नया रूप मिलता है। यह पत्रिका हमें यह सिखाती है कि विविध दृष्टिकोणों और विचारों को स्वीकार कर हम समाज को एक बेहतर

दिशा में ले जा सकते हैं। हमारी पत्रिका का हर अंक एक छोटा सा योगदान है, जो समाज में बदलाव लाने के लिए प्रेरित करता है।

अंत में, मैं सभी छात्रों, शिक्षकों और सहयोगियों का धन्यवाद देना चाहता हूँ, जिनकी मेहनत और समर्पण के कारण यह पत्रिका संभव हो पाई है। मैं यह भी कहना चाहूंगा कि यह पत्रिका हमारे परिवार की साझा आवाज है, जो हम सभी के विचारों, अनुभवों और सपनों का प्रतीक है। मैं आशा करता हूँ कि आप सभी इस पत्रिका को न केवल पढ़ेंगे, बल्कि इसका हिस्सा बनेंगे और इसे और भी बेहतर बनाने में अपनी भूमिका निभाएंगे।

इस पत्रिका को संपादित करने का अनुभव मेरे लिए बहुत खास रहा है, और मैं अपने सभी साथियों के साथ मिलकर इसे और भी सफल बनाने के लिए प्रतिबद्ध हूं। साथ ही, मैं सभी से यह अनुरोध करता हूं कि वे इस पत्रिका को एक प्रेरणा के रूप में देखें, और इसमें प्रकाशित विचारों और लेखों से कुछ नया सीखने की कोशिश करें।

धन्यवाद।

Being enrolled in bachelor of education at Institute of vocational studies, IPU. It has been a fantastic experience for me to be a student of IVS. I would always be grateful for the support and experiences the college gave me. The faculty has always been encouraging, understanding and supportive of the student's development. Preliminary School Engagement (PSE) helped us to become a good, interactive and empathetic teacher. The institution helped me to get deeper understanding about school and know various new aspects, perspectives and component of Life. Through the many approaches used by the college, I have gained a lot of knowledge. I will never forget the way teachers have taught us , the activities you have included in your lectures to enhance learning. I especially loved how you have related the lessons to real life examples to make more logical sense to us . You have set a great example for all of us to follow and it always inspired us to be better people to always strive to do our personal best. Thank you ma'am for your guidance and support.

Ms. Panya
D.El.Ed. (2022-24)

"The true essence of an institute lies not in the lessons taught, but in the lives it touches, the dreams it ignites, and the leaders it shapes for a brighter tomorrow." My time at the Awadh Centre of Education, Institute of Vocational Studies (2022–2024), was a journey of profound learning, growth, and self-discovery. The institute provided me with invaluable opportunities to participate in a wide array of activities that helped build my confidence and gave me a platform to represent myself before a larger audience. These experiences allowed me to explore beyond my comfort zone, enhancing my personal and professional journey. The unwavering support and encouragement from the principal, faculty members, director, and chairman were instrumental in my development. Their guidance reflected the true essence of a teacher's role in shaping students, and their constant motivation inspired me to strive for excellence. The institute's approach to blending academic rigor with co-curricular activities created a holistic learning environment, fostering growth in every dimension. Participating in various curricular and co-curricular events not only honed my skills but also taught me the value of teamwork, discipline, and creativity. Receiving the Awadh Shishya Award was a humble acknowledgment of the institute's faith in me and its dedication to nurturing talent with respect and dignity. Each room in the college had its own distinct theme designed to immerse students in the exploration of specific subjects. These rooms were thoughtfully dedicated to various disciplines, enabling students to delve deeper into real-life applications of the concepts they studied. The rooms were enriched with diverse teaching materials, crafted collaboratively by students and teachers, which fostered an interactive and engaging learning environment. This approach not only expanded students' understanding beyond the curriculum but also emphasized the practical implementation of knowledge in everyday scenarios, creating a dynamic bridge between theoretical learning and real-world application. One of the most enriching aspects of my experience was the library, a treasure trove of knowledge. With the assistance of the diligent library staff, I discovered resources beyond my course materials. I learned how to navigate different sections, unearth hidden gems of information, and understood that learning extends far beyond prescribed textbooks, offering boundless opportunities for intellectual growth. Each subject I studied brought its own charm and intrigue, making learning a fulfilling journey. The institute's flexible examination system ensured a seamless academic experience, allowing me to focus on both academics and extracurricular exploration. Reflecting on my journey, I am immensely grateful for the nurturing environment, countless opportunities, and meaningful experiences that IVS provided me. These two years will always remain etched in my memory as some of the most transformative years of my life, paving the way for a promising and confident future.

Closed eyes and kaleidoscope sight

I still think of the days left behind,

I yearn to go back to those times,

Same as the kangaroo in his mother's pouch.

The cacophony of lunch time with unison voices of strengthened salutations

Still in my withered mind with forgotten dreams of past times

Well, not forgotten, but ignored.

Like the ignored sharpener, which went under the desk

But now every day is filled with hibernation

Adult choices and changing seasons with

Gust of corruptness spelled on me

You might think I forget those childish swirls and talks, but with all my heart, I still think of the days left behind.

I reminisce about past sorrows and the labyrinth of past innocence when freewheeling was the force and trailing was unknown

Ohh, this Fleeting joy of past life Deluge me with forgotten smiles

Though time may pass and seasons wane

Memories endure with a lovely pain

In the tendrils of innate days I find my way,

But all alone sitting in a side ; I' ll still think of the days left behind.

Mirage of justice

A shimmering oasis, on the horizon frame
Promising equality, and an end to pain
But as we draw near, it vanishes in air
Leaving dust and despair, without a care
Systemic wrongs, in disguise, prevail
Token gestures, a distracting tale
Diversity mask, conceals the truth inside
Justice delayed, and denied, with pride
Marginal voices, silenced and worn
Media lens, distorts, and twists the form
Of a reality, where freedom& call
Echoes hollow, through an empty hall
Yet still we march, through desert sands
Seeking oasis, where justice stands
Centering voices, silenced and worn
Challenging narratives, forever torn
BREAK THE MIRAGE
Shatter the illusion, confront the pain
Radical change, not incremental gain
Solidarity rises, a united cry
For justice, equality, and an end to lies
No more mirage, no more disguise
True justice shines, with open eyes
For all, regardless, of race, creed, or birth
Equality's promise, on this earth.

The mirage of thirst for education

Beneath the sun of endless skies,
Where minds are dry, and dreams arise,
A thirst is born, a silent plea,
For knowledge vast, for minds set free.
Yet like a mirage in desert sand,
It shimmers near but slips the hand,
Promises of wisdom's grace,
But vanish as we start the chase.
In dusty books and hollow halls,
We search for truth behind the walls,
Yet doors are closed, the road unclear,
And still, we wander year by year.
The thirst for knowledge, bright as dawn,
Keeps pushing those who must move on,
Despite the trials, despite the waste,
They press ahead with tireless haste.

For though the path may twist and wind, The thirst for learning binds the mind, And even when the end's unsure, The quest itself becomes the cure.

My thirst to excel in teaching

My Thirst to Excel in Teaching

Though I have been tutoring kids at home for about 14 years and am now pursuing a Bachelor of Education to teach professionally, I still have a deep desire to improve and excel. It is not just about gaining qualifications or recognition, but about truly making a difference in the lives of the children I teach. This drive to get better never fades, even with my experience. Over the years, I have learned that teaching goes far beyond covering material. I want to understand each child—their interests, their struggles, and what motivates them. My goal is to meet them where they are and help them grow into confident, curious learners. Even with all these years of experience, I know there is always more to learn to make the learning experience more meaningful and effective. Pursuing my Bachelor of Education has reignited that thirst for growth. I realize that the world of education is always changing, and with it, the needs of students. To still be effective, I must keep learning, adapting, and trying new teaching methods. This pursuit of knowledge keeps me motivated to not only improve my teaching at home but to be fully prepared for the professional classroom. There are moments when teaching can feel challenging—whether it is managing different learning styles or keeping up with the demands of both studying and teaching. But my passion for improving reminds me why I continue to pursue this path. It keeps me going, even when the work feels tough. More than anything, I want to inspire my students, whether at home or in a classroom. I want to ignite their curiosity, help them overcome difficulties, and build their confidence in their abilities. If I can do that, I will feel fulfilled as both a teacher and a learner. In the end, excelling as a teacher is not about being perfect. It is about always striving to grow, adapting to new challenges, and connecting with students in a way that goes beyond just lessons. My thirst for teaching will never end, and it drives me to become the best teacher I can be—both at home and in the future, in a professional setting.

Mirage of social justice

Together, we can create a world where justice is not just a mirage, but a reality. In a world plagued by inequality, discrimination, and systemic injustices, a beacon of hope emerges. Meet Mirage A Thrust, a movement fueled by the unwavering dedication to social justice. With unyielding determination, they thrust forward, seeking equality and unity for all. Though key issues can be like Racial Justice: Confronting systemic racism and police brutality, Climate Justice: Addressing environmental disparities and promoting sustainability, Disability Rights: Ensuring accessibility and inclusivity and Economic Empowerment: Bridging the wealth gap and promoting fair labor practices. "A Mirage of Social Justice" refers to the illusion of progress in achieving equality and fairness, while systemic injustices persist. This phenomenon deceives individuals into believing that meaningful change is occurring, when in reality, tokenistic gestures and superficial reforms mask the entrenched disparities. The mirage distorts our perception, making it seem as though justice is within reach, only to vanish when confronted with the harsh realities of racial, economic, and social inequalities. In simple words it can be said that in the vast expanse of human society, social justice appears as an oasis on the horizon, promising equality and fairness for all. The pursuit of social justice is thwarted by systemic injustices, distorted perceptions, and unattainable ideals. Social justice, a beacon of hope for equality and human rights, often appears within reach, yet remains elusive. Social justice is often treated as an unachievable dream, with incremental gains considered sufficient. This mentality perpetuates the mirage, distracting from the need for radical, systemic transformations. To shatter the mirage of social justice, we must: Center marginalized voices, Challenge dominant narratives,Implement policy changes addressing systemic injustices and Foster inclusive, intersectional approaches. Mirage A Thrust recognizes that social justice is a collective responsibility. By uniting diverse voices and perspectives, they create a formidable force for change. Mirage A Thrust embodies the unwavering spirit of social justice. Their unrelenting pursuit of equality and unity inspires a new generation of change-makers. Join the thrust toward a just and equitable society. Together, we can create a just and equitable society, where the mirage of hope becomes a reality. This unrelenting pursuit of social justice embodies the essence of humanity and potential. By recognizing and dismantling these illusions, we can create a more equitable society. The pursuit of social justice demands sustained action, critical examination, and a commitment to tangible change. To shatter this mirage, we must confront the truth, center marginalized voices, and demand radical, systemic transformations to create a genuinely just and equitable society.

Mirage of social justice

Spirituality and faith

" Be True to the Lord "

In a world filled with distractions, uncertainties, and challenges, many individuals turn towards spirituality and faith as a source of strength, comfort and guidance. Whether through organized religion, personal beliefs, or practices such as meditation and mindfulness, connecting with a higher power or embracing a sense of purpose can provide a sense of peace and confidence in the face of obstacles. Spirituality and faith are deeply personal experiences that can vary greatly from one individual to another. For some, attending religious services and participating in rituals and traditions are essential aspects of their faith. For others, spirituality may involve seeking inner peace through self-reflection, meditation, and connecting with nature. Regardless of the specific form it takes, spirituality and faith can offer numerous benefits for those who embrace them. Studies have shown that individuals who identify as spiritual or religious tend to experience lower levels of stress, anxiety, and depression. They also tend to exhibit higher levels of resilience and optimism, enabling them to cope more effectively with ups and downs. One of the key aspects of spirituality and faith is the belief in a higher power or a greater purpose beyond oneself. This sense of connection to something greater can foster a deeper sense of meaning and fulfillment in life, encouraging individuals to strive for personal growth and contribute to the well-being of others. Moreover, spirituality and faith can provide a sense of community and belonging, as many individuals find support and camaraderie through shared beliefs and values. This sense of connectedness can help alleviate feelings of isolation and loneliness, fostering a sense of solidarity and unity among believers. In times of crisis or uncertainty, spirituality and faith can serve as a source of solace and guidance. By turning to their beliefs and practices, individuals can find strength, courage, and hope to navigate through challenging circumstances and emerge with a renewed sense of purpose and resilience. Ultimately, spirituality and faith are powerful tools that can help individuals cultivate a greater sense of peace, meaning, and connection in their lives. By embracing these aspects of their being, individuals can tap into a source of inner strength and wisdom that can guide them through joys and sorrows with grace and resilience.

In conclusion, spirituality and faith are deeply personal and unique experiences that can bring meaning, purpose, and comfort to our lives.

By exploring and nurturing our spiritual beliefs, we can cultivate a sense of connection and hope in the face of challenges. Ultimately, embracing spirituality and faith can lead us on a profound journey of self-discovery and transformation, guiding us towards a more fulfilling and meaningful existence. May we all continue to explore our spiritual paths with an open heart and an open mind, finding solace and inspiration in the depths of our beliefs.

Thirst of knowledge through literacy

Oh, knowledge, the light of life,
A treasure trove, free from strife.
In schools, we learn to read and write,
To gain the power of knowledges might.
Literacy is the key to success,
A skill that we must possess.
Schools teach us to read with ease,
to comprehend and analyze with expertise.
Proficient reading skills last a lifetime,
A gift that keeps on giving, so divine.
Schools help us develop this skill,
To read and learn, with a strong will.
With books in hand and minds open wide,
we embark on a journey, with nothing to hide.
For knowledge is the path we must tread,
and schools are the light that guides ahead.
So let us embrace this gift with glee,
and learn from it, with all our energy.

Education: The Key to Growth and Liberation”

Education, the gateway to futures bright,

A beacon that shines through the darkest night.

More powerful than armies, strong and grand,

It guards our freedom with a gentle hand.

The fruits of its labor, in time, are sung.

What is a mirage?

A Mirage can be an imagination to escape from the real world.

It can be a fantasy world for someone where all the sadness vanishes in a while.

In this fake world where everything is a mirage

We run behind wealth and fame,

But it can't quench our thirst,

We count our worth by things we own

It's a materialistic world dear,

So don't let the Mirage feed the fear

Let the Mirage live and die,

A fleeting vision , a dream to fly,

For in its dance , we find the key

To all the world that never be.

What is a mirage?

A mirage is a naturally occurring optical phenomenon that occurs when light rays bend due to refraction, creating a displaced image of distant objects or the sky. The term “mirage” derives from the French word “mirer,” which means “to look at” or “to wonder at,” and has its roots in the Latin word “mirari.”

Types of Mirages

Mirages can be categorized into three main types:

1. Inferior Mirage: This type occurs when the mirage image appears below the actual object. Typically, this happens when light rays coming from a distant object pass through layers of air with varying temperatures. For instance, on hot days, the ground heats up, causing the air directly above it to warm while cooler air remains above. As light travels from the blue sky or distant objects, it bends downward due to this temperature gradient, resulting in an illusion of water or a bright patch on the ground.

2. Superior Mirage: In contrast to inferior mirages, superior mirages appear above the actual object. This phenomenon occurs during temperature inversions where cold air lies beneath warmer air. Light rays are bent upwards as they pass through these layers, making distant objects appear elevated or distorted. Superior mirages are particularly common in polar regions and can create dramatic visual effects such as towering images of distant shorelines.

3. Fata Morgana: A complex form of superior mirage characterized by rapidly changing images that can include both erect and inverted forms. Fata Morgana typically occurs over large bodies of water or ice and involves strong temperature inversions that create intricate patterns and distortions in the observed images. Mechanism Behind Mirages The underlying mechanism for all types of mirages involves refraction—the bending of light as it passes through different densities of air caused by temperature variations. When light travels from one medium (like cooler air) into another (like warmer air), its speed changes, leading to bending at an angle determined by Snell’s Law.

What is a mirage?

In practical terms:

- For inferior mirages, light rays from an object like the sky bend downwards towards cooler ground.
- For superior mirages, light rays bend upwards through warmer air above cooler layers.
- Fata Morgana results from multiple layers with varying temperatures causing complex bending patterns.

Observational Conditions

Mirages are most commonly observed in specific conditions:

On hot days over asphalt roads or deserts where heat causes significant temperature gradients.

In polar regions where uniform low temperatures create stable conditions for superior mirages.

At night under certain atmospheric conditions where lights from vehicles or celestial bodies can also produce mirage effects.

Mirages are real optical phenomena that can be captured on camera; they differ fundamentally from hallucinations since they result from physical interactions between light and atmospheric conditions rather than mental perceptions.

The probability that this answer is correct is high due to reliance on established scientific principles regarding optics and atmospheric phenomena.

The Importance of the Girl Child in Society

The girl child is often seen as the cornerstone of any society. Yet, across the world, girls continue to face barriers that inhibit their growth, empowerment, and contributions. Recognizing the importance of the girl child is critical for the creation of a more balanced, fair, and inclusive society. As we advance into the 21 st century, it is crucial to emphasize the transformative power of investing in girls and why their education, health, and protection should be prioritized. This article explores the multifaceted importance of the girl child, the challenges they face, and how societies can actively work toward securing their future.

1. The Role of the Girl Child in Society

Historically, women and girls have been the backbone of families and communities. Girls grow up to be women who are not only mothers but also educators, leaders, entrepreneurs, and change-makers. Empowering a girl child leads to a ripple effect in the family and beyond.

A girl child's education, for Instance, has a direct impact on future generations. Studies consistently show that educated girls tend to have fewer children, marry later, and are more likely to ensure that their own children are healthy and educated. This positive cycle helps break the cycle of poverty, increases economic growth, and improves the well-being of entire communities. Moreover, women's involvement in politics, decision-making, and economic sectors is crucial for developing balanced, inclusive governance. From history to modern times, women leaders have made significant contributions to peace-building, policy-making, and sustainable development.

2. Challenges Faced by the Girl Child

Despite their importance, girl children continue to face numerous challenges globally, particularly in developing regions.

A. Discrimination and Gender Bias

From birth, many girls are subjected to discrimination based on deeply ingrained gender biases. In cultures where sons are valued over daughters, girl children may receive less attention, nutrition, or opportunities compared to boys. This can result in a lack of education, inadequate healthcare, and limited prospects for the future.

B. Lack of Access to Education

Globally, millions of girls are out of school due to a variety of factors, including poverty, gender discrimination, early marriage, and cultural practices. According to UNESCO, 129 million girls worldwide are not enrolled in school. Education is a powerful tool that can break the cycle of poverty, and when girls are denied the right to learn, they are also denied the opportunity to improve their future and contribute fully to society.

C. Child Marriage and Early Pregnancy

Child marriage is one of the most severe forms of gender discrimination, with millions of girls being forced into marriage at a young age. The implications are devastating: early marriage often leads to early pregnancy, which comes with numerous health risks. Many young girls die from childbirth complications, and those who survive are often denied an education and are more vulnerable to domestic violence.

D. Violence and Exploitation

Girls face higher risks of gender-based violence, including physical abuse, sexual exploitation, human trafficking, and child labor. In conflict zones, girl children are especially vulnerable to violence and exploitation. These violations not only damage their physical and psychological health but also undermine their ability to thrive and contribute to society.

3. The Importance of Education for the Girl Child

Education is often considered the most powerful tool for change, and for the girl child, it can be life- changing. Here are several ways in which education benefits the girl child and the broader society:

The Importance of the Girl Child in Society

A. Empowerment

Education empowers girls with the knowledge, skills, and confidence they need to participate fully in their communities and economies. Educated girls are more likely to have a voice in decisions that affect them, whether in their homes, workplaces, or governments.

B. Breaking the Cycle of Poverty

Educated girls are better equipped to enter the workforce, earn higher wages, and support themselves and their families. An educated woman is more likely to ensure her own children are educated, leading to a multi-generational effect on poverty reduction.

C. Health Benefits

Educated girls tend to marry later and have fewer children, and they are more likely to access healthcare for themselves and their families. This leads to lower infant mortality rates and better overall family health.

D. Social Stability

When girls are educated, entire communities benefit. Societies with high levels of female education tend to have lower levels of violence and conflict, as women's participation in decision-making processes promotes peace and social cohesion.

4. Economic Contributions of the Girl Child

The girl child, when empowered, can become a significant contributor to the economy. In many countries, women make up a large portion of the workforce, particularly in sectors such as healthcare, education, agriculture, and service industries. When girls receive an education and the opportunity to enter the workforce, they bring new perspectives, creativity, and innovation.

A. Female Labor Force Participation

Research shows that increasing female labor force participation can significantly boost a country's GDP. A report by McKinsey Global Institute estimates that if women participated in the economy equally to men, global GDP could increase by $28 trillion by 2025. By investing in girls' education, countries can harness the full potential of their workforce and drive economic growth.

B. Entrepreneurship and Leadership

Many girls, when given the chance, grow up to become entrepreneurs, leading businesses and creating jobs for others. In some developing countries, women represent the majority of entrepreneurs in the informal economy, contributing to local economies despite facing numerous barriers. Supporting girl children to acquire leadership and entrepreneurial skills ensures a vibrant, diverse economy.

5. Health and Well-being of the Girl Child

Good health is a fundamental right, and ensuring that girl children have access to adequate healthcare is critical for their growth and development. The health of a girl child can have a direct impact on her education, productivity, and future well-being. Ensuring access to basic healthcare services such as vaccinations, nutritional support, and reproductive health services is key to her survival and development.

A. Reproductive Health

Adolescent girls often face challenges related to reproductive health. Lack of information, inadequate access to healthcare services, and societal stigma can lead to unplanned pregnancies, unsafe abortions, and sexually transmitted infections (STIs). Providing comprehensive sex education and access to reproductive healthcare can help girls make informed decisions about their bodies and futures.

B. Nutrition

Malnutrition is a major issue for girl children, particularly in developing countries. Girls who are undernourished are more likely to drop out of school and face health complications. Proper nutrition is essential for their physical and cognitive development, enabling them to lead productive lives.

6. The Legal and Policy Framework for Protecting the Girl Child

A strong legal and policy framework is essential for the protection and empowerment of the girl child. Many international treaties, including the Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC) and the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW), emphasize the rights of girl children to education, health, protection from violence, and participation in society.

A. Laws Against Child Marriage

Several countries have implemented laws banning child marriage, recognizing the detrimental impact it has on girls' lives. However, in many places, these laws are not adequately enforced. Governments must take stronger actions to ensure that girls are protected from early and forced marriages.

B. Policies for Girls' Education

Governments must also prioritize policies that promote girls' education. This includes providing scholarships, ensuring safe transportation to schools, and creating gender-sensitive curriculums that address the unique challenges faced by girls.

7. How Society Can Support the Girl Child

Supporting the girl child requires a collective effort from governments, communities, families, and individuals. Here are some ways society can contribute:

Advocacy and Awareness: Raising awareness about the challenges faced by girl children is the first step in changing mindsets. Advocacy campaigns can highlight the importance of educating girls and protecting their rights.

The Importance of the Girl Child in Society

Community Programs: Local communities can play a vital role in supporting girls by creating safe spaces where they can learn, grow, and express themselves. Community programs that provide mentorship, leadership training, and life skills are especially impactful.

Parental Support: Parents play a crucial role in a girl's development. Encouraging parents to prioritize the education and well-being of their daughters, just as they would their sons, can help dismantle gender biases and foster equality.

Encouraging Role Models: Women leaders and role models can inspire young girls to dream big and pursue their ambitions. When girls see women in positions of power and influence, they are more likely to believe in their own potential.

Conclusion

The girl child holds immense potential to shape the future of society, but this potential can only be unlocked when her rights are respected, her well-being is prioritized, and her opportunities are equal to those of her male counterparts. Investing in the education, health, and protection of girls is not only a moral imperative but also a strategic move toward achieving sustainable development. A society that values and empowers its girls is one that is destined for progress and prosperity.

By recognizing the importance of the girl child and addressing the barriers they face, we can build a world where every girl can grow, learn, and thrive.

STILL I SEEK, WITH HOPE IN MY HEART,

"The oasis of dreams"

Asma's eyes scanned the endless dunes, her throat parched and dry. She'd been searching for the Oasis of Dreams for what felt like an eternity. Every step forward, a reminder of her deepest longings.

"Maybe it's just a myth," she whispered to herself.

Just then, a misty figure emerged from the haze. An old traveler, with eyes that held the weight of a thousand suns.

"Child, the oasis is a reflection of our souls," he said, his voice barely above a whisper. "It's the promise of happiness, always on the horizon, yet never within reach."

Asma's eyes welled up with tears. "But why must it tease me so?"

The old traveler smiled, his face etched with compassion. "Because, dear one, the journey itself is an oasis. The laughter, the tears, the moments of beauty... These are the treasures we must cherish."

Asma's heart swelled with understanding.

She realized that life's beauty lay not in some distant dream, but in the fragile, fleeting moments she experienced every day.

जीने की चाह

जीने की चाह दीप जलाती है, हर अंधेरे को दीप दिखाती है।
रात चाहे कितनी भी काली हो, सपनो की रोशनी कभी ना जाती है।
हर मोड़ पर नई गाथा दिखती है, जीवन की गाथा फिर से लिखती हैं।
हर गिरावट में उठने की आस है, हौसला बढ़ाती नही करती निराश है।

धूप और छांव का खेल निराला, जीने की चाह ने हर गम संभाला।
हार के बाद जीत की लहर, जीवन की नई सुबह का सफर है।
हर दिन नया है, हर पल अनमोल, जीने की चाह से हर दुःख जा भूल।
चलते रहना बढ़ते रहना मेरे यार, जीवन का यही है सच्चा अधिकार।

"नारी"

नारी भी मैं, पिता पर भारी भी मैं , सम्मान भी मेरा, तिरस्कार भी मेरा

लाज भी मैं, शॉर्ट्स पहनने पर बेहया भी मैं,घर की सोन चिरैया भी मैं,

गिद्दों के हाथ आ जाने पर लांछन भी ,घर की लक्ष्मी भी मैं, दहेज का भार भी मैं

देवी बना कर पूजा भी मेरी, बेरहमी से असम्मान भी मेरा,खूबसूरत होने की प्रशंशा भी मे
कमी होने पर इंकार भी मुझसे,सिखाया जिसने खुद के लिए आवाज उठाना, हिंसा होने
चुप रहने की हिदायत भी उससे,कहते हैं जो चिड़िया मुझे, उड़ान भरने पर रोक भी उनसे

डॉक्टर बनने पर देश की शान, लांछन लगने पर काला निशान,कभी पिता,भाई,पति,औ
तो कभी गीता का सार, खुद की ख्वाहिशों को दबा देना क्या यहीं तक सीमित
मेरा संसार?

आखिर मैं हूं कौन और क्या है अस्तित्व मेरा ?

पिता के उपनाम से पति के नाम तक, क्या यही रहेगी पहचान मेरी ?

ख़ैर इन सवालों का जवाब दबेगा इस महिला सशक्तिकरण के शोर में,

समय मिले तो पूछिएगा घर की बहु- बेटियों से, क्या हैं वो सहमत इस नारीवाद दौर से'

एक हकीकत ऐसी भी!

आज मैने देखी नग्न लड़कियां
सड़कों पर खुल्लेआम नहाती गरीब घर की लड़कियां
उन्हें शायद किसी ने बतलाया नही था की हैवान उम्र नहीं देखता
कालका मां से पवित्र मंदिर के आगे खुदको सुरक्षित समझती लड़कियां
वो मासूम अल्हड़ लड़कियां जो अभी परिपक्व भी नहीं थी
मैने देखी ऐसी बच्चियां
उनकी गलती है की वो हैं गरीब पिता की लड़कियां,
नहीं है उनके पास छत की चार दीवारें की वो अपनी लाज बचा सकें
वो आज के आधुनिक दौर में भी अपने बदन को साफ कर रही हैं सड़कों के किनारे
वो मासूम हैं 10 साल की नन्हीं सी जान
पर कुछ आदमियों की हैवानियत से हैं वो अनजान
मां ने लाज बचाने के वास्ते लगाए थे 2 पारदर्शी दुप्पटे
जब 65 साल के आदमी ने घूरा उन्हें उस दुप्पटे की ओंट हटा कर
उनके बदन के हर अंग को नापा अपनी गंदी नजरों को टीका कर
मेरी रूह कुछ कांप सी गई
मेरी मजबूत देह कुछ थर थरा सी गई
रोंगटे खड़े हो गए आज के दौर को देख कर
जहां अध पक्व कच्ची कली सी लड़कियां भी सुरक्षित नहीं
कहां है वो सरकार जिसे बचाना है देश को ?
कहां है वो शिक्षक जिन्हें बचाना है इनकी देह को ?
कहां है वो संस्कार जो नारी को मानते है देवताओं के भी पार ?

समय का सदुपयोग

अभी समय है अभी संभल जा
देखो अभी सुयोग तुम्हारे पास खड़ा है
करना है जो काम, उसीमें चित्त लगा दो
अपने पर विश्वास रखो, संदेह भगा दो।
आएगा क्या समय, समय तो टला जा रहा
देखो जीवन व्यर्थ तुम्हारा चला जा रहा
तो वीरों की भांति खड़े हो जाओ अब भी
करके बड़े हो जाओ अब भी।
उद्योगी को कहाँ नही सुसमय मिल जाता
समय नष्ट कर नहीं कोई भी सुख पाता
आलस ही करा रहा ये सभी बहाने
जो करना है करों अभी छोड़े सभी बहाने
ऐसा सुसमय भला तुम कब पाओगे
खोकर पीछे इसे तुम सदा ही पछताओगे।
तो इससे क्यो ना ऐसा काम कर जाओ
जिससे सुखी रहे संसार तथा तुम भी सुख पाओ।

Cleanliness

CLEANLINESS

Cleanliness cleanliness,
Let's make it our voice,
It's a healthy richness,
That makes our world a beautiful palace.

Wake up and keep the surroundings clean,
Without being so mean,
It will keep you healthy,
Yes, physically and mentally.

An unclean environment ruffles us,
But cleanliness overwhelmes us,
Untidiness makes us whine,
But cleanliness makes us to shine.

Cleanliness is an expression and the best solution,
It clears up all diseases from each and every nation,
So, let's put little efforts to keep the Earth clean
And make our environment green.

भारत के उन्नति के रास्ते

1. शिक्षा का विस्तार:- शिक्षा एक ऐसा शब्द है जो देखने में तथा उच्चारण में बहुत छोट
लेकिन इसका हमारे जीवन में बहुत बड़ा महत्व है। यदि हम शिक्षित होगे तो विश्व में हमारा
होगा तथा रोजगार में वृद्धि होगी, जिससे हमारा देश विकसित होगा।

2. स्वास्थ्य में सुधारः- स्वास्थ्य ही हमारा सबसे बड़ा धन है। यदि हम स्वस्थ होगें तो अधि
शारीरिक कार्य कर संकेगे तथा अधिक धन कमा सकेंगे जिससे प्रतिव्यक्ति आय में वृद्धि ह
जो राष्ट्रीय आय को बढाएगा तथा (यू.एन.डी.पी.) के नजर से हम विकसित माने जाएंगे।

3. भ्रष्टाचार पर रोकः भ्रष्टाचार का अर्थ होता है गंदा आचरण अर्थात अपने स्वार्थ के
किया गया कार्य भ्रष्टाचार कहलाता है। यह एक आदत है। भ्रष्टाचार हमारे देश को दीमक
तरह खा रहा है। जिससे अनेक संतुलन खराब हो रहा है। देश के उन्नति के लिए भ्रष्टाचार
रोक अत्यंत आवश्यक है।

4. जनसंख्या पर नियंत्रण : जनसंख्या हमारे देश के जटिल समस्याओं में से है एक जो ह
देश को विकसित बनने के लिए बाधित कर रही है। जनसंख्या पर रोक लगाने के लिए ठोस
ठोस कदम उठाना चाहिए।

5. समय का सदुपयोगः- समय का हमारे जीवन में बहुत बड़ा महत्व
है। यदि हमारे पास समय है तो हम कुछ भी कर सकते है। समय के सदुपयोग से ही आज ब
से देश भारत से अधिक विकसित है।

6. आतंकवाद पर रोकः- आतंकवाद हमारे देश के विकास में एक पहाड़ के समान है, जो ह
देश के विकास में बाधा डाल रहा है। आज आतंकवाद का दहशत पूरे देश में फैल गया है। अ
आतंकवाद पर रोक अति आवश्यक है।

7. स्त्री शिक्षा को बढ़ावा देकरः- स्त्री हमारे देश की देवी मानी जाती है, अगर हम अपने
को ही नहीं शिक्षित करेंगे तो हम कहाँ से शिक्षित हो पाएंगे। स्त्री को शिक्षित करनें से साक्ष
दर बढ़ती है, जिससे हमारा देश विकसित होता है।

8. गंदी राजनीति पर रोकः- गंदी राजनीति का तात्पर्य है, महत्वपूर्ण मुद्दों से जनता का ध्
भटकाना। अतः विकास हेतु गंदी राजनीति पर रोक आवश्यक है।

मंज़िल

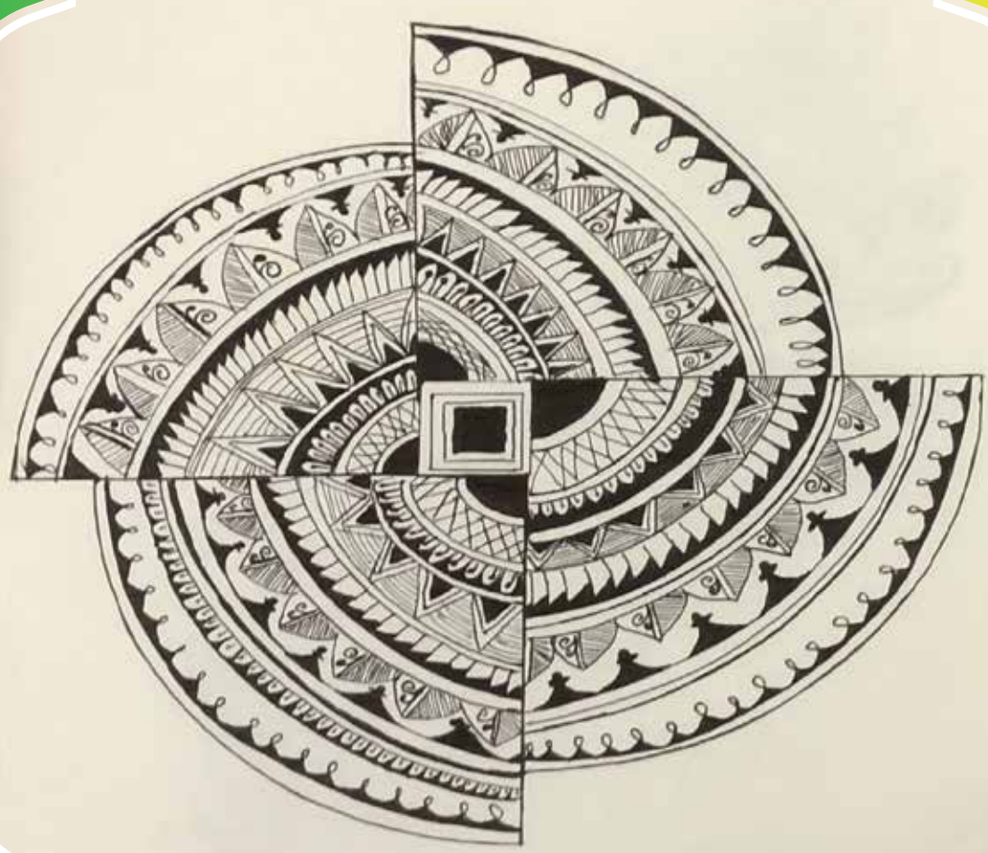

ज़मीन पर बैठकर क्यों आसमान देखता है,
पंखों को खोल, ज़माना सिर्फ़ उड़ान देखता है'
लहरों की तो फ़ितरत ही है शोर मचाने की
लेकिन मंज़िल उसी की होती है, जो नज़रों से तूफ़ान देखता हैं
हर पतंग जानती है कि उसे अंत में 'कचरे' में जाना है
लेकिन, उसके पहले उसे- 'आसमान' छूकर दिखाना है..
ज़िन्दगी' भी बस यही चाहती है कि
उठो जागो न रुको तब तक, लक्ष्य प्राप्ति न हो जब तक

आओ मिलकर आगे बढ़ों,
लक्ष्य प्राप्ति की राह बनाओ
तभी कवि कह गए है कि
करो जो रोशन स्वयं का नाम
तभी करेगा जग तुम्हारा सम्मान।
तभी करेगा जग तुम्हारा सम्मान।।

Innovation: The Heart of Progress

Innovation is the driving force behind progress, constantly reshaping industries, societies, and individuals' lives. At its core, innovation is the act of introducing something new, whether it's a product, process, or idea, that improves upon existing norms or solves unmet needs. It sparks creativity and encourages us to look beyond conventional boundaries, making it a key factor in business success and technological advancements.

In today's fast-paced world, innovation is crucial for staying competitive. Companies that embrace innovation often lead the market, offering cutting-edge solutions that address evolving customer demands. Whether it's through groundbreaking technology like artificial intelligence or sustainable practices that reduce environmental impact, innovative ideas create new possibilities.

But innovation isn't limited to tech giants or startups. It thrives in all sectors, from education to healthcare, where fresh approaches can improve efficiency and quality of life. Moreover, innovation often results from collaboration, where diverse perspectives come together to solve complex challenges.

Ultimately, innovation fosters growth and enhances the human experience, pushing us toward a future where the impossible becomes possible. By nurturing an environment that encourages curiosity and experimentation, we lay the foundation for a more innovative and dynamic world.

The Spark of Innovation: How Creativity Shapes Our World

SHUBHAM SINGH TOMAR
BCA 2nd Sem

Innovation is the oxygen of progress. It's the power that transforms crazy ideas into game-changers, redefining the way we live, work, and relate. From the wheel to the smartphone, every step forward begins with someone brave enough to say, "What if?" But what drives humanity forward, and why does innovation matter so much now? Innovating in its essence is a matter of finding answers to problems. Consider the light bulb. Prior to Edison and his colleagues spending their time messing around, humans were left with candles and gas lamps—clumsy, dimly lit, and a safety risk. The light bulb did more than illuminate space; it extended the day, increased efficiency, and reduced danger. That's the magic of a great idea: it radiates outward, touching all things. But innovation isn't always a matter of grand inventions.

Sometimes it's subtle, incremental. Consider how coffee shops solved a problem through mobile ordering. Nobody created a new device or redefined physics—they just noticed a pain point (long lines) and applied existing technology to solve it. Now you can get your latte without sacrificing half your morning. Small adjustment, huge difference. What drives this process? Curiosity, among other things.

Today, we're in an innovation boom. Tech is the obvious star—think AI, electric cars, or those wild reusable rockets landing upright like something out of a sci-fi flick. But it's not just gadgets. Farmers are using drones to monitor crops, cutting waste and boosting yields. Fashion brands are spinning recycled plastic into clothes that don't scream "I'm made from trash." The thread tying it all together is a mix of necessity and imagination. Of course, innovation is not without its flaws. It can upend lives—consider factory workers displaced by robots or small businesses trampled by online retailers.

Progress tends to leave destruction in its path, and determining how to mitigate that damage is its own challenge. But standing still is not an option. The world's issues—climate change, disease, inequality—do not wait for us to get our act together. So where do we go from here? It's on all of us. You don't require a lab coat or a budget of a billion dollars to innovate. It's in the manner in which a teacher adjusts a lesson to inspire a child, or how a neighbour rigs a better composting system. Small or large, innovation happens when people care enough to attempt it. And in a world that's moving so quickly, that spark could be what keeps us ahead of the game.

Artificial Intelligence

KIRTI MISHRA
BCA 2nd Semester

Artificial intelligence has permeated our world so quietly that few of us even realize it exists anymore. Consider the last time you were prompted for directions by your phone, browsed the suggestions from a streaming site, or spoke to a customer support robot online. These encounters, once dreams of a far-off future, are now such banalities that they go largely unnoticed. Yet beneath the surface, something remarkable is going on—a quiet, incremental remaking of our way of living, working, and thinking.

The concept of machines replicating human thinking has been around before. In the 1950s, British mathematician Alan Turing asked the question of whether a machine had the potential to deceive a person into thinking that it was a human. It was the "imitation game," and that set off an inferno of interest. Primitive computers were clunky, but they paved the way. Decades later, with mountains of data and processing power that would've made Turing's head spin, we're seeing systems that don't just calculate—they learn, adapt, and sometimes even surprise us.

Take the medical field, for example. Doctors now lean on tools that can spot patterns in X-rays or predict patient outcomes faster than any human could. It's not about replacing physicians; it's about giving them sharper eyes and quicker instincts. In factories, machines learn how to put together parts better without anyone actually instructing them on how. And in corners of innovation, algorithms are generating music or pieces of artwork that's startlingly good—good enough to ask yourself where the threshold of human and machine actually stands.

ARTICLES BY STUDENTS

There is, naturally, an opposite side that keeps sleep away from people. Work is changing—some disappearing entirely—as tasks previously performed by hand or mind are outsourced to circuits and code. Privacy seems like a dinosaur when each click, search, and step is monitored to train these machines.

Yet the pace isn't slowing. Businesses invest billions in research, governments rush to keep pace, and ordinary people—people like you and me—keep swiping and tapping, fueling the beast without hesitation. It's a curious dance: we're creating this future, but we're not really sure where it's going. Perhaps that's the most human aspect of it—leaping in headfirst, making it up as we go.

And so here we are, in 2025, observing this quiet revolution. Artificial intelligence is not some far-off dream anymore. It's in our pockets, our homes, our hospitals. It's not magic, and it's not perfect, but it's real—and it's transforming everything, one small, unremarked step at a time.
