Report on Orientation Programme on Anti-Ragging Awareness

The Institute of Vocational Studies organized an Orientation Programme on Anti-Ragging Awareness on 09 September 2025 with the objective of sensitizing students about the importance of maintaining a safe, respectful, and inclusive academic environment. The programme aimed to create awareness regarding anti-ragging rules, regulations, and the consequences of engaging in any form of ragging within or outside the campus.

The session highlighted the institution's commitment to ensuring a ragging-free campus and promoting positive interactions among students. Information was shared regarding the legal provisions against ragging, university guidelines, and the role of the Anti-Ragging Committee and Anti-Ragging Squad in addressing student concerns. Students were also encouraged to report any incidents without hesitation and seek support whenever required.

Faculty members addressed the students and emphasized the importance of mutual respect, empathy, and healthy peer relationships in creating a supportive learning atmosphere. The programme served as an important platform to orient students towards responsible conduct and institutional values.

The orientation programme concluded successfully with active student participation and reinforced the Institute's dedication towards student safety, well-being, and a harmonious campus culture.

Report on Street Play on Sexual Harassment Awareness

The Institute of Vocational Studies organized a Street Play on Sexual Harassment Awareness on 23 March 2026 with the objective of creating awareness among students about sexual harassment, personal boundaries, respect, and consent. The initiative aimed to sensitize students towards recognizing inappropriate behaviour and promoting a safe and respectful environment within educational spaces and society.

During the programme, students actively participated in a street play portraying real-life scenarios that highlighted different forms of harassment, including verbal, physical, and online misconduct. The performances effectively demonstrated how such situations may occur in everyday life and educated the audience on appropriate ways to respond, seek help, and support others facing similar challenges.

The street play conveyed important messages on the significance of consent, gender sensitivity, mutual respect, and zero tolerance towards any form of harassment. It also encouraged students to speak up against injustice and contribute towards building a safer and more inclusive society.

The programme concluded successfully with enthusiastic participation from students and faculty members, reinforcing the Institute's commitment to awareness, student well-being, and social responsibility.
